Capture of Alleged Slayer May Lead to Clara's Arrest, View

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 8.—A requisition for extradition of Philip Alguin, wanted in Los Angeles for the murder of Detective Sergeant John Fitzgerald was signed here today by Governor Friend W. Richardson.

(By United Press Leased Wire) FREEPORT, Texas, Feb. 8.—Phil Alguin, Pacific coast slayer suspect, was arrested today when the steamer Freeport No. 6 arrived here from Tampico.

Alguin, held in chains aboard the vessel following his deportation from Mexico, was turned over to Freeport authorities pending arrival of police from Los Angeles who want him on a charge of murder.

The arrest of Alguin was believed the key to the apprehension of Clara Phillips, "hammer murderer" who escaped from a Los Angeles jail. Two men held by Los Angeles police will be released as a result of Alguin's arrest, it was understood, and as part of the agreement the hiding place of Clara Phillips will be revealed.

Alguin, following his removal from the ship, was turned over to Marshal Elkins of Freeport, who immediately started with him for Angleton, the county seat of Brazoria county.

STATE HIGHWAY MEN TO VISIT S. A. MONDAY

(By United Press Leased Wire) SACRAMENTO, Feb. 8.—Itinerary of the state highway commission next week in Southern California was announced here today by Secretary F. W. Minton.

The commissioners, accompanied by state engineers, will leave for Los Angeles on Sunday. Monday will be spent in Los Angeles, Santa Ana, and San Diego. On Tuesday the board will inspect the road through Imperial Valley, touching at El Centro and going on to Yuma.

Judge Urges Husbands To Call Halt In Gambling With Wives

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Magistrate Charles Oberwager today called upon American husbands to curb "gambling wives."

"Never let cooking interfere with gambling," has become the motto of so many women that afternoon card playing had become a dangerous evil, threatening the home, the magistrate declared.

Oberwager's denunciation of gambling by married women followed the case in his court of Mrs. Fannie Sprague 60, who was held under $500 bail for "maintaining a gambling room."

CATHOLICS TO FIGHT OREGON SCHOOL LAW

National Welfare Council to Raise $100,000 Fund to Carry Case to High Courts.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Catholics throughout the country today were asked by the National Catholic Welfare council to raise a fund of $100,000 to carry a legal fight against the Oregon anti-parochial school law to the supreme court.

The Oregon law, adopted by a popular vote in the last election, would abolish private and parochial schools for children between the ages of eight and sixteen. It is to become effective in 1926.

The money raised will be called "The Catholic Educational Defense Fund" and the appeal was sent to all members of the hierarchy in the United States. It was signed by Archbishop Hanna of San Francisco, Bishop Muldoon of Rockford, Archbishop Dowling of St. Paul, Bishop Schell of Cleveland, Bishop Walsh of Portland, Bishop Gibbons of Albany and Bishop Moellty of Brooklyn.

NEW DISCOVERY STIRS DESERT SCIENTISTS

(By United Press Leased Wire) LUXOR, Egypt, Feb. 8.—Interest of scientists uncovering relics of the Pharaoh's tomb turned from Tut-Ankh-Amen's tomb to Qualeikhr in the Assions district where discoveries indicative of prehistoric man in Egypt were reported today.

'GHOST CITY' MAN ON WAY TO PRISON

J. K. Wood, convicted of land fraud in the courts here and sentenced to an indeterminate term of one to ten years at San Quentin, was to be taken to the state penitentiary today. Wood, known as the "Phantom City" man, due to his land operations, was out on $1500 bail while his case was appealed. He "skipped" his bail, but was recaptured last Wednesday.

PREDICTS EARLY DEBT PAYMENT

ALL ENGLAND REJOICING AT BIRTH

Son, Heir Sixth Removed to Throne, Is Born to Princess Mary

(By United Press Leased Wire) LONDON, Feb. 8.—A son, heir sixth removed to the British throne, was born to Britain's beloved Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles at Chesterfield House last night. The baby weighed eight pounds.

Today's official bulletins proclaimed:

"Mother and son doing well."

King George and Queen Mary were early at the town house of Viscount Lascelles and his princess-wife, and other members of the royal family called to pay respects to the little one, while popular rejoicing amounting almost to a public holiday reigned in London.

An official bulletin at 10 o'clock read:

"The Princess Mary passed a comfortable night. Her condition this morning was quite satisfactory."

(Signed) "Simpson."

Ranks as Commoner

Word was also issued to the effect that the baby, who despite his mother's royal birth, is only a commoner, with "honorable" as his only title, was doing excellently.

"Princess Mary's boy is fair and sturdy. His cry is audible all over the Chesterfield House," was word passed from the Lascelles residence later today, as official bulletins continued to detail excellent progress in the condition of England's Princess and her son.

The baby is a potential heir to the crown, as matters stand today. Although his royal mother renounced her rank when she married a commoner, there are at present only the four sons of King George and Queen Mary and the Princess Mary herself with her new-born son who are direct descendants of the present reigning family.

Under ordinary circumstances the most the newcomer can ever hope to be is Earl of Harewood, should his paternal grandfather and father die.

But it was "our Mary's" child, regardless of rank, that caught the popular imagination, just as her renunciation of royal privileges by marrying outside royal ranks, endeared Princess Mary to the man—and particularly the women—in the street.

DEMOCRATIC SOLONS IN INDIANA STRIKE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 8.—Forty Democratic members of the Indiana legislature went on strike today.

They walked out of the house of representatives after the Republican majority had over ridden amendments offered by the Democrats to the appropriation bill.

Threats were made by the strikers not to return during the session.

$397,820,000 VALUE OF 1922 CROP, CLAIM

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 8.—Farm crops raised in California in 1922 totaled $397,820,000 in value, according to the annual report of G. H. Hecke, state commissioner of agriculture, made public here today.

The report said that it was the largest production in the state's history.

Famous Mining Town Folk Aghast as Drys Close Saloons

LEADVILLE, Colo., Feb. 8.—The oldest miner in this famous mining district couldn't remember Leadville ever being like it was today.

Former saloons famous throughout the west in the early days had been raided, for the first time in their history. For three hours yesterday went through soft drink parlors, pool halls and other places where liquor was sold over the bar. Hundreds of gallons of moonshine whisky was carried out while crowds of spectators stood by.

Twenty men were arrested and jailed.

Wide open Leadville was closed last night. And the old prospectors and miners, accustomed to their "nip," mourned the passing.

LABOR HEADS OPPOSE HUGE BUDGET CUTS

State Federation Declares Action of Richardson Endangers State Institutions.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—Two attacks were made today on Governor Richardson's budget presented last week to the legislature.

One came from the state federation of labor and the other from Miss Helen Edwards, aged 18, president of the student body at the San Francisco State Teachers' college.

The state federation of labor attacked the budget on the grounds that it endangers movements and institutions in which labor is interested, citing the failure to include any appropriation for the immigration and housing commission, and the reduced appropriations for the state labor commission, the industrial accident commission and the industrial welfare commission.

WAR ON SCHOOL UNIT MEASURE STIRS EDEN

Hearing of the gathering storm of opposition among Orange county educators to his county unit school system bill introduced in the state senate at this session, State Senator Walter Eden will shortly confer with J. A. Cranston, city school superintendent. It was learned here today.

"Since it (Senate Bill No. 30) was introduced and before I heard from you," wrote Senator Eden in a letter addressed to Cranston, "I had heard of some objections to it."

"I want to see you during the recess (of the legislature) and will arrange to have a conference with you about the matter."

Eden Favors System

"I introduced this bill," declared Eden in the letter, "largely because I am very much in favor of a county unit system for school districts. This was one of the recommendations that was made by the committee, of which I was a member, that investigated the school system several years ago."

The state legislature is now in recess. Senator Eden is expected here within the next few days, it was stated.

Opposition to the bill has been voiced strenuously by virtually all executive educators of Orange county, including Santa Ana's city school superintendent, R. P. Mitchell, county school superintendent, and H. J. Nelson, principal of the junior high school.

"The bill would eliminate all city boards of education," explained Cranston, "and leave all powers in a political county board."

Burton Expects British to Settle With U. S. In Ten Years

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—In accordance with President Harding's request for prompt action, the house ways and means committee today, with only one dissenting vote, favorably reported to the house the bill amending the debt law so that the British settlement may be finally consummated. A special rule to make the bill in order within the next few days will be asked.

(By United Press Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Full payment of Great Britain's five billion dollar war debt to the United States in "little more than ten years" was predicted today by Representative Burton of Ohio, a member of the American debt commission, in testimony before the ways and means committee.

Burton based his prediction on the belief that Great Britain would make an effort to take advantage of the lower rate of interest agreed on for the first ten years.

The settlement with Great Britain, he said, set the high water mark of agreements for refunding the other war obligations owed this country. He said no higher interest rates than those given Great Britain could be expected from other nations.

Would Prevent Action

The bill ratifying the settlement, Burton said, was designed to fix the maximum authority of the debt commission. The commission does not have final authority for future negotiations, but Burton said the long recess of congress might prevent action on other settlements until December unless its powers were fixed at this time.

Representative Fear of Wisconsin, a progressive leader, voiced "doubt in the debt commission" and declared a "wonderful settlement had been made with Great Britain."

While the house committee began its consideration of the debt bill, Senator Harrison, Mississippi, in a fiery speech to the senate, assailed President Harding for the tone of his message yesterday.

Attack on Harding

Harrison's attack on Harding centered mainly around the president's appeal to the senate to reach some decision on the ship subsidy bill, and his statement that postponement of such a decision by prolonged debate was a mark of impotence.

"Why should the president offer this insult to the senate?" asked Harrison. "No other conclusion was possible than that he wished the country to believe that the senate was impotent."

"To anyone who has watched his course as president, his insult to the senate is enough to cause a laugh. He appeals to the senate to show qualities of decision. Why the executive branch of this government does not know the meaning of the word substitution for decision the word vacillation and is marching to a tune of isolation and negotiation."

STANFORD STUDENTS TO ABOLISH HAZING

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 8.—Hazing of freshmen students was believed to have been ended today at Stanford University.

Forty-two sophomore students, living in Encina Hall, largest of the men's dormitories, signed a public announcement that they were responsible for recent instances of hazing, renounced the method of student discipline, agreed to accept the consequences and to lend their aid to building a system of senior control to replace hazing.

Solons Insist Public Be Protected In Huge Packer Merger

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Assurances that every "illegal and legislative" action will be taken to protect public interest in the merger of Armour and company with the Morris Packing interests were given in a special report of the senate investigating committee today.

Senator Kendrick, chairman of the special sub-committee reported to the senate agricultural committee, suggesting immediate consideration by the agricultural committee of the Norris resolution calling for investigation of the merger.

Kendrick, however, also suggested that no action be taken for the present on the La Follette bill to transfer the powers of the secretary of agriculture over packing companies to the federal trade commission.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—A list of alleged drug addicts in the Hollywood movie colony and detailed information as to their source of supply has been received here by Colonel L. G. Nutt, chief of federal narcotic forces, from his agents in Southern California.

The list was compiled with the assistance of the principal movie companies located at Hollywood, it is said.

BELIEVE DEATH MAY END HUNT FOR HEIRESS

(By United Press Leased Wire) ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 8.—A friendless woman who had just died in a rooming house here bears a remarkable resemblance to Dorothy Arnold, New York heiress who disappeared years ago and of whom no trace was ever found.

The police, comparing the dead woman's features with those of the missing girl as shown in photographs, considered the similarity so striking that an immediate investigation was started. The woman gave the name of Mrs. Saunders when she came to the lodging house five years ago. She was accompanied by a man who left at once and has not been seen since.

"Mrs. Saunders" told the landlady she had come from New York and that she had friends in Philadelphia and had divorced her husband. She appeared to have enough money to live comfortably, was cultured and an accomplished linguist.

DOUGHBOYS FACING FINANCIAL PROBLEM

(By United Press Leased Wire) SAVANNAH, Ga., Feb. 8.—Soldiers of the army of occupation, home from the Rhine, struggled today with problems of economy and household duties.

Accustomed to lives of luxury in Germany, where their pay of $90 a month meant riches and luxury, the doughboys were busy today trying to arrange quarters at Fort Screven and live within their incomes.

The transport St. Mihiel, after discharging the soldiers here, sailed for Charleston, S. C., with 400 officers and men and forty-one "war brides" on board. After docking at Charleston, the transport will go to New York where the remaining contingent will embark.

KEMALISTS BUILD FORTS AT SMYRNA

French and British Warships Ready to Test Turkish Edict

(By United Press Leased Wire) CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 8.—Turkey today extended by twenty-four hours the ultimatum sent to the allied powers demanding withdrawal of all foreign warships of more than one thousand tons from Smyrna harbor.

In the meantime a French cruiser went at full speed for the forbidden waters and two British battle cruisers, the Resolution and the Emperor of India, were held in readiness at Mitylene. The French indicated they would follow the British example of deliberate defiance of the Turkish ultimatum.

PARIS, Feb. 8.—The French commander at Smyrna reports that up to a late hour last night the Turks made no move to enforce their ultimatum ordering allied warships from the harbor.

British, French and American war vessels rode at anchor in the harbor or steamed slowly along the shore of the gulf, upon whose steep cliffs the Turks were reported to be ranging six inch guns, semi-official dispatches said, but the governor of Smyrna had given no word to act, nor had the military commanders made what the French considered a threatening move.

The Turkish governor explained that the ultimatum, now believed to be ineffectual was given because the Kemalists feared a Greek attack.

TURKS HAVE COMMAND OF 250,000 TROOPS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Turkey has 130,000 troops in the Near East, while the British armed forces there total only about 35,000, including 12,300 Indian and native troops, according to United States government information.

Soviet Russia has about 120,000 in the Caucasus, which could be quickly moved to the support of the Turks in event of war between Turkey and Russia on one side and Great Britain on the other.

FRENCH EXTEND STEEL GORDON IN GERMANY

(By United Press Leased Wire) BERLIN, Feb. 8.—Radical labor disturbances have broken out at Muenchen-Gladbach and Rheidt, the government was informed today.

Laborers' councils, similar to a Russian soviet, have been formed. Muenchen-Gladbach and Rheidt are in the Rhine land, within the lines of the French army of occupation. They are silk centers and contain large populations of workers.

French troops in newly occupied territory continued their advance at dawn, extending the occupation in the direction of Elberfeld.

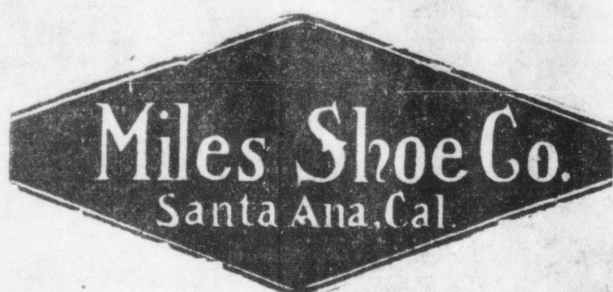

Reports from Essen stated the French plan was to strengthen the garrison there with a new battalion.

Offenburg dispatches said excitement was increasing, that the invaders had directed artillery against that city and were requisitioning everything they required as though under war-time conditions. A general strike of German workers was threatened, as a reprisal, with Communists favoring separate action.

Government reports indicate a growing belief France intends to make one great militarized zone of the right bank of the Rhine and seize not only coal and coke, but all by-products, including dyes.

a burden of $800,000,000. "The President has fallen under the sway of Lasker," Harrison continued.

"When Lasker pulls the strings, the President jumps. It is through Lasker's power that this ship subsidy was forced upon the congress—a subsidy that not even half the Republicans trust in their hearts."

With reference to the debt settlement, Harrison said Harding has, in his opinion, attached too much significance to it, and again scored him for his change of attitude.

Scors President
"He said this was a call for the integrity of covenants. Does the world need that any more now than it did three years ago? I am glad that at this late date he has seen light. But I cannot attach the great significance to his argument that he does. I see no occasion for the great and profuse praise for Great Britain, which has done nothing more than the American people expected of her."
The farmers will want to know why President Harding did not urge the house of representatives to pass the farm legislation instead of asking assistance for the shipping trust, Harrison said.

TRIAL OF GIRL CASE IS SET FOR MARCH 5

Britton's arrest followed a sensational "party" at his home, and the subsequent disappearance of Miss Vaughan. Sensational disclosures were promised when the second trial comes.

GAS RANGES
Bake with Fresh Air

This is How it Works

1. The air passing up the flue in the rear of the broiler compartment absorbs practically all the heat radiated from the rear wall of the broiler, thus utilizing the heat which is wasted in other constructions.
2. Direct radiation of heat through the oven bottom, is reduced to the minimum. An even distribution of heat through the oven is secured, so that food will bake uniformly no matter in what part of the oven it is placed.

3. In passing over the intensely heated plate which forms the lower wall of the oven bottom, the air is sterilized before coming in contact with the food.
4. The moving blanket of air between the two walls of the oven bottom keeps the oven bottom from overheating and makes it practically everlasting.

5. Because there are no openings in the side linings of the oven, baking can be placed flush up against the linings. In the ordinary gas range oven there is at least an inch of space at each side of the oven which cannot be utilized on account of the intense heat discharged through the openings in the side linings. Hence an 18-inch Estate Oven actually has the baking capacity of any ordinary 20-inch oven.

FIND REMAINS OF MONSTER IN OHIO

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 8.—Ten thousand years ago the well known Elephant Primigenius walked into a pond near what is now the village of Fulton, Ohio, and sank.

A few years later great sheets of ice, bearing mountains of earth and stone, crept down across the land, filled up the pond and completely covered Mr. Primigenius' remains.

Employees of the Fulton Tile and Brick Company uncovered the bones a few days ago as they loaded clay for their plant. The workers notified scientists of the Ohio Archeological Society, who rushed to the scene of the find and immediately identified the "choice bits of the delicate skeleton" as part of the late Mr. Primigenius.

As his first name connotes, Primigenius was of the elephant family of the 1923 circus.

Weighted Eight Tons.
Curator Shetrone, who is authority for the above scientific speculation on this mammoth's manner of demise, estimated that in his lifetime Primigenius weighed some 15,000 pounds, or perhaps more than eight tons.

One bit of the skeleton was a "wisdom" tooth. It is four times the size of the average human skull.

Shetrone estimated the mammoth stood fifteen feet high. "It is a fine skeleton," he said. "The best I have ever seen in Ohio, and in a perfect state of preservation. It will lend itself readily to mounting."

Director of the State Museum Mills declared the find an unusual one for this part of the United States of such animals are usually found in widely scattered localities. Mills said, "or as individual bones or teeth. Very few museums of this country or the old world possess mounted skeletons of the size of this specimen."

FILE BILLIARD BATTLE DEATH INFORMATION

Information, charging manslaughter, was filed today against C. C. Tripplett, Fullerton, before Superior Judge R. Y. Williams. Tripplett will be arraigned tomorrow.

The defendant was arrested several weeks ago, when he returned to Fullerton after an absence of nearly two years. Evidence at the preliminary hearing showed that he and Malcolm Arrian, proprietor of a billiard room at Brea, had engaged in an argument, and that Arrian had fallen dead in the course of a fracas.

The state attempted to show that the defendant had dealt a blow with a billiard cue.

Defense Attorney A. E. Koepsel, however, tried to prove that death had been due to heart failure, and with that in view, had requested a continuance, that John Arrian, brother of the deceased, might be subpoenaed, and ordered to produce the heart of the deceased, which, he said, had been preserved. The court refused to grant the continuance.

It was expected that the heart of the dead man would play a prominent part in the trial, should a plea of not guilty be entered.

TELLS LAGUNA MOUNTAINS' BEAUTY

That the Laguna mountains and Descanso section, San Diego county, in the Cleveland national forest are growing rapidly in popularity with and usefulness to the public as recreational grounds, was declared here today by J. B. Stephenson, formerly of El Toro, now forest officer in charge of the Laguna and Descanso district.

"The highway between San Diego and El Centro," said Stephenson, "takes many thousands of automobiles annually through Descanso, and brief camps in untold numbers are made in the oak groves along this scenic road."

"The Laguna mountains are twelve miles off the state highway. The road to the Lagunas is good, with not more than an eight per cent grade anywhere, at least eleven feet wide all the way. Last summer 5,000 machines made the trip into the Lagunas. The main attractions there are the wonderful views, the pines and oaks and little lakes. The government provides good camp grounds."

Many See Desert
"Hundreds of automobilists in travelling the state highway through Descanso turn off to the Lagunas just for one view—the desert. We have a road out on what is called Desert View. The view changes every hour of the day and no matter how many times one sees it, the view will never be the same as on any previous visit."

The use of the Laguna and Descanso areas for cabin purposes is growing, Stephenson said. Twenty-five cabins have been built at Descanso and fifty-seven on the Laguna mountains on federal permits. New cabin sites are to be laid out at Descanso within the next two weeks. Stephenson said that two-thirds of the owners of cabins are residents of Imperial Valley, who find the 3,500-foot altitude of Descanso and the 6,000-foot altitude of the Lagunas very acceptable changes during the summer.

"Accommodations improve
"Accommodations are being bettered in every way," continued Stephenson. "Descanso, being only a ride of an hour and a half from San Diego, with all but seven miles of the highway paved, is visited for day outings by great numbers of San Diego people."

Stephenson said that two large resort projects are to be carried out this summer. Cuyamaca ranch, lake and mountain, which is private property, has been sold and will be turned into a resort with hotel and a large number of cabins. L. Cheroske, Long Beach, has bought 160 acres of private land adjoining the forest in the Lagunas, and is now cutting lumber for a hotel and cabins. It is expected that Cheroske will cooperate with the government in widening the highway and installation of telephones.

While here, Stephenson is getting specifications of the big open air fireplace at the county park.

THIS LITTLE BABY GIRL

Was Benefited by the Good Her Mother Got from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Pittsburgh, Pa.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because my little girl was born, and the effect it had was wonderful. This will be the first child I have nursed as I had to bring my two boys up on the bottle. I was very nervous and worried, tired all the time, and after I read about the Vegetable Compound I tried it and kept on with it. I still continue its use and recommend it to my friends. You may publish these facts as a testimonial for your medicine."—Mrs. Wm. KLINGE, 169 Plymouth St., Pittsburgh, Pa.

It is remarkable how many cases have been reported similar to this one. Many mothers are left in a weakened and run-down condition after the birth of the child, and for such mothers the care of the baby is well-nigh impossible. Not only is it hard for the mother, but the child itself will indirectly suffer.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent tonic for the mother at this time. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and does not contain any harmful drugs.

GROVE DRAINAGE DISTRICT SUPPORTERS SCORE VICTORY

Jubilant over the victory of H. issue was halted through court action. B. Clemons, who was re-elected a director in the Garden Grove drainage district in yesterday's election, proponents of the ambitious program of the district calling for an expenditure of $100,000, today were eagerly awaiting final action of the appellate court in connection with litigation involving the bond issue to cover the contemplated improvements.

According to those who have been active in the campaign to equip the district with a modern drainage system, designed to bring under cultivation between 2,400 and 2,500 acres of farm land, the defeat of Edward Ohmer by Clemons, by a vote of 49 to 20, was convincing proof that a majority of the residents in the district desire that the improvements go forward as originally contemplated. H. A. Lake and Edward Chaffee, other members of the board, are said to be heartily in favor of the drainage program included in the bond issue.

Bond Issue Halted.
Owing to the objections of those opposed to the program, the bond

CITY TEACHERS DISCUSS BIG QUESTIONS

Teachers of the city schools this afternoon were preparing to attend at the high school auditorium at 3:30 o'clock a special meeting of the City Teachers' league, called by Edward Hummel, president, for the discussion of two important business matters and to hear discussions on important subjects.

Hummel announced that at the business session there would be a discussion as to whether teachers should be given at the time of the spring vacation notice of intention of the board of education to retain them for the following year or dismiss them at the close of the term for which they have been engaged.

Urgent Notice Given.

It was pointed out that were notice of dismissal given before the spring vacation, teachers would have opportunity during that period to find positions in other schools for the year following termination of their identification with the school whence they are being dismissed.

Hummel also planned to suggest that a day in each week or month of the school term be designated upon which each pupil will be asked to bring a penny to school to be added to the scholarship fund, from which local students are given assistance in their endeavor to secure an education.

One of the principal reasons for calling the session of the league was to give the teachers opportunity to hear an address by A. C. Olney, state commissioner of secondary schools, who was scheduled to be here this afternoon.

J. A. Cranston, city superintendent, will discuss Senate Bill No. 20, introduced by Senator Walter Eden, of this city, and proposing reorganization of school districts.

Prof. E. M. Nealey was programmed to discuss "Mental miracles, psychological gold bricks, pseudo sciences and scientific cults."

Miss Margaret Wilkes, head of the musical department of the high school, was scheduled to render piano selections and Mrs. Hazel Launders Hummel was to favor with vocal numbers.

GIRL CASE TRIAL JURORS DISAGREE

The case against William Wilson, Orange, upon which a jury in Superior Judge R. Y. Williams' court disagreed yesterday, will be reset for trial tomorrow.

After six hours and thirty minutes of deliberation, the jury in the case yesterday reported a failure to agree on a verdict. Unofficially, it was reported that they stood 8 to 4 for a conviction.

Wilson was arrested on charges brought by a girl, as the result of an incident said to have occurred at a dance at Olive November 11. The trial began Tuesday morning, continuing all that day and all day yesterday.

The case went to the jury at 2 p. m. yesterday.

RATTO ON WINTER COURSE TOMORROW

John B. Ratto, who will appear at the Junior high school here tomorrow night as a number on the Winter Entertainment course, is said to be regarded as one of the greatest impersonators on the platform today.

Ratto "makes up" before the audience for each of his characterizations. His programs comprise impersonations in "make-up" of many different characters, but they are so well connected that one character after another follows in logical order, it was declared.

Ratto is a psychologist and his programs are always presented with due regard to the requirements of the times. While most of his program is of a humorous nature, here and there he slips in a touch of the dark side of life that never fails to score heavily and brings handkerchiefs to the eyes of many.

His program here will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

U. S. TAX COLLECTOR RE-OPENS HIS OFFICE AT CITY HALL HERE

APPEAL IS FILED IN ZONE LAW COURT FIGHT

The fight to nullify Huntington Beach's city zoning ordinance was continued today, as notice of appeal in the case of the Pacific Palisades association against the city of Huntington Beach was filed in superior court here.

The suit was originally an effort to obtain an order restraining the city and Marshal Jack Tinsley from arresting members of the association should they seek to "drill for oil on property, owned by them, within the district in which oil drilling is prohibited. The plaintiffs attempted to show that the zoning ordinance was illegal.

The court upheld the defendants, and refused to grant the injunction. Tanner, Odell and Taft, Los Angeles, represented the plaintiffs.

ROLLING PIN MATE'S WEAPON, SAYS WIFE

The proverbial rolling pin figured in the domestic tribulations of Edith and Elmer Russell, but it had changed hands, according to a complaint for divorce on file in superior court here today.

Elmer was cruel, his wife alleged. Once while they resided in Anaheim, he hit her over the head with a rolling pin; another time he tried to cut her throat with a razor, she said. Frequently he called her names, and was often unreasonable, the complaint asserted.

Valentine Bridge

Honoring her house guests, Mrs. William J. McKay of Enid, Oklahoma, Mrs. Fred Jacobson of Hollywood, together with Mrs. H. T. Shirley of Long Beach, Mrs. H. V. Trueblood yesterday entertained a large guest group at one of the winter's most charmingly appointed bridge parties.

Mrs. Trueblood chose the pleasant surroundings of St. Ann's Inn as setting for the affair and arriving friends were introduced to her honor guests as they stood in the receiving line near the cheery open fire in the lobby.

Card tables were arranged in the east end of the dining room where Mrs. Farwell Hull and Mrs. Charles V. Doty aided the hostess in distributing attractive valentine tally cards and seating the players.

Red hearts and gilded arrows were awaiting the players and in progressing the arrows moved forward while the hearts back with the effect of thoroughly mingling the love.

Following the interesting session of bridge the prize award was made with Mrs. A. M. Gardner (an "arrow") receiving first prize; Mrs. Alex Brownridge (a "heart") receiving second; Mrs. William McKay receiving the guest prize and Mrs. W. W. Cleverger proudly claiming the consolation.

To the two young matrons who assisted her, Mrs. Hull and Mrs. Doty, heart shaped satin boxes of candy were presented by Mrs. Trueblood.

Players then gathered around attractive small tables in the other compartment of the dining room for the enjoyment of refreshments served in two courses, a salad with dainty hot tea-biscuit and coffee followed by the sweets course with valentine colors predominating. Each table was centered with an attractive red rose basket filled with sugared nuts and other confections.

Mrs. Trueblood's guest list included in addition to the four honor guests, all of whom with the exception of Miss Lane, form a group of cousins, the following:

Mrs. J. W. Bishop, C. D. Brown, George Balderston, Roy Barker, W. D. Barker, Alex Brownridge, W. W. Cleverger, John Clarkson, F. H. Cloyes, John Cochran, Charles Doty, D. M. Davis, H. T. Capistrano Y. L. I.

Members of Capistrano Y. L. I. No. 104 were rejoicing today over the substantial addition to their treasury resulting from last night's successful dance and card party at Knights of Columbus hall.

Announcement of the last social affair of the Institute prior to Lent, called forth one of the best crowds of the season and twenty-three tables were necessary to accommodate those who joined in the exciting whist contest.

At 10 o'clock the games were closed and prize awards made. Miss Anna Oehlke and Mr. Frank Storck, held high score while consolation fell to Mrs. Ward and Ralph Doyle.

Not to be outdone by her husband, Mrs. Frank Storck proudly carried off the entrance prize, a beautiful big cake.

In the interval between cards and dancing, a bevy of young girls served cake, marshmallows, coffee and chocolate.

A short program presented the Misses Elizabeth and Rose Donnelly of Anaheim in violin and piano numbers, "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms" and a dance medley; Miss Irma Snakell in a vocal solo, "Gypsy Love Song" with Miss Eva Simonson at the piano and Eleanor Young Elliott in a reading.

With Miss Clara Koth at the piano the remainder of the evening was devoted to dancing.

In addition to local members and guests there were many present from Anaheim and Fullerton. The hostess committee planning the happy event was composed of Mrs. Thomas Fuley, Miss Edna Wurster and Mrs. James Murphy.

Eastern Star Chapters
Make Elaborate Plans
To Greet Officials

Plans for the reception and entertainment of grand officers of the Order of Eastern Star when they make their annual visit of inspection to local chapters of the order, today promised that all would be in readiness for a gala event on Monday night, February 19.

The festivities will open with a dinner at St. Ann's Inn to be served promptly at 6 o'clock in order that the evening program plans may be carried out. To this dinner all members of the four chapters (Hermosa and Santa Ana of this city, Chispa of Orange and Seaside of Huntington Beach) together with all visiting Stars, will be eligible upon presentation of tickets.

These tickets may be purchased at Mater's drug store or through the patrons of the two local chapters, James A. Tarpley of Hermosa chapter and Don Loveridge of Santa Ana chapter. Emphasis has been placed on the fact that tickets must be purchased and reservations made by tomorrow night as the Inn management must have definite knowledge as to the number of guests to prepare for.

Following the dinner, members will adjourn to Masonic temple, where Santa Ana chapter surrendered the regular meeting night that the joint affair might be held. There, with Santa Ana, Hermosa, Chispa and Seaside officers as hosts, the distinguished visitors will be greeted, will examine the four chapters and later be entertained with a delightfully arranged program to which each of the four hostess chapters will contribute numbers.

School for Dancing
Opens With Smart
Social Features

Partaking of the nature of a smart little social affair was the opening of the studio for interpretative dancing by Joy Palmer Leitch of the Greenleaf building yesterday afternoon when Miss Leitch with a little group of interested patronesses, greeted those interested in the development of her line of work.

Miss Leitch, a pupil of the Denishawn school in Los Angeles, attracted favorable attention here at a program presented by the Girls' league of the High School. Later, announcements received by prominent clubwomen and leaders of the city, to the effect that the talented young dancer planned to open a studio here, attracted equally favorable interest.

Yesterday afternoon at the formal opening, Miss Leitch kept "open house" at the studio and received dozens of friends and well-wishers. She was assisted by a group of patronesses including Mrs. Leonard G. Swales, Mrs. Terry Stephenson, Mrs. Ellis Rhodes, Mrs. Fred Rowland, Mrs. F. W. Slabough, Mrs. W. A. Flood, and Mrs. Arnold Peck.

To add to the social features of the afternoon was the presence of the mother of Miss Leitch, Mrs. Andrew L. Leitch, who as Flavia Gaines Leitch, is prominent in newspaper circles of San Francisco and Los Angeles and a charmingly cultured woman.

Miss Leitch will conduct classes in various phases of interpretative dancing as well as receive pupils desiring individual instruction. She is opening her work with a very delightful class of small people while among the pupils wishing individual instruction are many members of the younger social set and a number of youthful matrons.

Missionary Society

UNITED PRESBYTERIAN
Meeting yesterday afternoon in the parlors of the United Presbyterian church, members of the Woman's Missionary society of the church held a most interesting session presided over by Mrs. William Smart, president.

Owing to the illness of Miss Rosaline Kellogg, leader, the program was presented under the direction of Mrs. Scott Thompson, with Mrs. Luther Kellogg leading the devotionals.

Plans were made for representation at the Woman's General Missionary society to be held in Los Angeles next June and Mrs. William Smart was appointed delegate with Mrs. M. M. Tidball as alternate. In planning for the all-day prayer meeting to be held at the local church February 16, Mrs. J. T. Bait and Mrs. S. C. Finley were named to have charge of the fifteen minutes to be taken by the society.

In presenting the afternoon program on "Building in India and the Trend of the Races," Mrs. Thompson spoke on "The Burdens of India." Mrs. Belle Marshall read a paper on "The Great Handicap of India," and Mrs. Wallace Ball discussed "The Trend of Educational and Industrial Development of the Negro Race." The final paper was one prepared by Mrs. W. Matthews and in her absence was read by Mrs. Thompson.

Mrs. J. G. Kennedy, who, with Dr. Kennedy will leave soon for their new charge in Los Angeles, extended an invitation to all the women of the church to a housewarming at their new home at Orange avenue and Bishop street which they have just completed. The date named was Wednesday, February 14 from 3 to 5 p. m.

Although going to a new charge, Dr. and Mrs. Kennedy will maintain their home in this city and have just completed the very attractive place which will be thrown wide to all their friends.

Yesterday's meeting ended with the serving of delicious jello with whipped cream and little cakes. The next meeting will be March 7 at the home of Mrs. T. L. Warren, 814 Parton street.

SCARAMOUCHE

By RAFAEL SABATINI.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

The oath, taken as he held in his arms the body of his dearest friend, PHILIPPE DE VILMORIN, sent Andre-Louis MOREAU, young lawyer of Gavrillac, to Rennes and thence to Nantes where his fervid speeches roused to action the citizens who were chafing under the oppression of the nobility.

Philippe had been tricked into a duel and brutally murdered because the great MARQUIS DE LA TOUR D'AZYR feared the "dangerous gift of eloquence" which the idealistic divinity student possessed. Andre-Louis swore to carry on the cause of his friend and revenge himself of the Marquis for Philippe's death and because the profligate noble had sued for the hand of the beautiful ALINE DE KERCADIOU, niece of the gruff LORD OF GAVRILLAC, who was popularly believed to be the father of Andre-Louis.

Returning from Nantes, Andre-Louis is met on the outskirts of Gavrillac by Aline, who warns him that soldiers are waiting in the town to arrest him for sedition.

GO ON WITH THE STORY
"My dear Aline! That I should have been the cause of so much concern and trouble!" exclaimed Andre with mocking nonchalance. "Do you realize that they have come to arrest you?" she asked him, with increasing impatience. "You are wanted for sedition, and upon a warrant from M. de Lesdigueres."

"Sedition?" quoth he, and his thoughts flew to that business at Nantes. It was impossible that he could have had news of it in Rennes and acted upon it in so short a time.

"Yes, sedition. The sedition of that wicked speech of yours at Rennes on Wednesday."

"You must not go into Gavrillac," she told him, "and you must get down from your horse, and let me take it. I shall return it to the Breton Army."

"You haven't considered what will happen to you if you do such a thing?"

"What do I care for law? Do you imagine that the law will presume to touch me?"

"Of course there is that. You are sheltered by one of the abuses I complained of at Rennes. I was forgetting."

"Complain of it as much as you please, but meanwhile profit by it. Come, Andre, do as I tell you. Get down from your horse." And then, as he still hesitated, she stretched out and caught him by the arm.

"Her voice was vibrant with earnestness. 'Andre, you don't realize how serious is your position. You must go away at once, and lie completely lost until my uncle can bring influence to bear to obtain your pardon.'"

"That will be a long time, then," said Andre-Louis. "M. de Kercadiou has never cultivated friends at court."

"There is M. de La Tour d'Azyr," she reminded him, to his astonishment.

"That man!" he cried, and then he laughed.

"Why, yes. You see, I have not yet said that I will be Marquis de La Tour d'Azyr. It is a position that has its advantages. One of them is that it ensures a suitor's complete obedience."

"So, so. I see the crooked logic of your mind. You might go so far as to say to him: 'Refuse me this, and I shall refuse to be your marquise.' You would go so far as that?"

"At need, I might."

"And do you not see the converse implication? Do you not see that your hands would then be tied, that you would be wanting in honor if afterwards you refused him? And do you think that I would consent to anything that could so tie your hands? Do you think I want to see you damned, Aline?"

Her hand fell away from his arm.

"Oh, you are mad!" she exclaimed, quite out of patience.

"Possibly. But I like my madness. There is a thrill in it unknown to such sanity as yours. By your leave, Aline, I think I will ride on to Gavrillac."

"Andre, you must not! It is death to you!" In her alarm she backed her horse, and pulled it across the road to bar his way.

"Aline, on one condition only."

"And that?"

"That you swear to me you will never seek the aid of M. de La Tour d'Azyr on my behalf."

"Since you insist, and as time presses, I consent."

Obediently he swung down from his horse, and surrendered the reins to her.

She was gone, and he stood listening to the receding clatter of hoofs until it grew faint in the distance.

BOOK II: THE BUSKIN
CHAPTER I

Coming presently upon the Redon Road, Andre-Louis, obeying instinct rather than reason, turned his face to the south, and plodded wearily and mechanically forward. He had no clear idea of whither he was going, or of whither he should go. All that imported at the moment was to put as great a distance as possible between Gavrillac and himself.

Midway across the vast common to the north of Guignen he came to a halt. Beyond loomed a tall building which he knew to be an open barn, standing on the edge of a long stretch of meadowland. It was as big as a house, yet consisted of no more than a roof carried upon half a dozen tall brick pillars. But densely packed under that roof was a great stack of hay that promised a warm couch on so cold a night. He cleared a trough for his body, and lying down in it, covered himself to the neck with the hay he had removed. Within five minutes he was soundly asleep.

When next he awakened, the sun was already high in the heavens. Then to his awakening senses came a drone of voices close at hand, to which at first he paid little heed.

"Oh, Mon Dieu, Leandre, let us separate at once. If it should be my father."

And upon this a man's voice broke in, calm and reassuring:

"No, no, Clémence; you are mistaken. There is no one coming. We are quite safe. Why do you start at shadows?"

More was not needed to reassure Andre-Louis. He had overheard enough to know that this was but the case of a pair of lovers who, with less to fear of life, were yet after the manner of their kind—more timid of heart than he.

In the space of crooked meadow between the barn and the hedge stood a man and a woman, both young. The man was well-set-up, comely fellow, with a fine head of chestnut hair tied in a queue by a broad bow of black satin. He was dressed with certain tawdry attempts at ostentatious embellishments, which did not prepossess one at first glance in his favor.

The child—she was not more than that, perhaps twenty at the most—possessed, in addition to the allurement of face and shape that went very near perfection, a sparkling vivacity and a grace of movement the line of which Andre-Louis did not remember ever before to have beheld assembled in one person.

He could not have told you why, but he was conscious that it aggravated him to find her so intimate with this pretty young fellow, who was partly clad, as it appeared, in the cast-offs of a nobleman. He could not guess her station, but the speech that reached him was cultured in tone and word. He strained to listen.

"That is what my heart desires, Leandre, but I am beset by fears lest your stratagem should be too late. I am to marry this horrible Marquis of Sbrufadelli this very day. He arrives by noon. He comes to sign the contract—to make me the Marchioness of Sbrufadelli. Oh! It was a cry of pain from that tender young heart. 'Save me, Leandre. Save me! You are my only hope.'"

So her father was marrying her to a marquis! That implied birth on her side. And yet she was content to pair off with this dull young adventurer in the tarnished lace!

"It shall never be!" M. Leandre was storming passionately. "Never! I swear it!" and he shook his puny fist at the blue vault of heaven—Ajax defying Jupiter. "Ah, but here comes our subtle friend. He will bring us news. I know."

Andre-Louis looked also in the direction of the gap. Through it emerged a lean, slight man in a rusty cloak and a three-cornered hat worn well down over his nose so as to shade his face.

"Monsieur," said he, with the air of a conspirator, "the time for action has arrived, and so has the Marquis. That is why."

"Tell me, tell me! Speak!" Clémence implored him, holding out her hands in a supplication no man of sensibility could have resisted. And then on the instant she caught her breath on a faint scream. "My father!" she exclaimed, turning distractedly from one to the other of those two. "He is coming! We are lost!"

W. P. Fuller and company, paint manufacturers and distributors, announce the opening next Saturday afternoon and evening of their Orange county branch, both wholesale and retail, at 400 West Fourth street, Santa Ana, in the location formerly occupied by Wing Brothers paint store.

This is the twenty-second store to be opened on the Pacific coast by this pioneer paint concern, and the second in Southern California within the last six months, the other being the San Bernardino store, opened last October.

The firm of W. P. Fuller and company has been established on the Pacific coast since "49" and has grown to be one of the largest paint manufacturers in the United States and the largest on the Pacific coast. The opening of a branch store here is a recognition of the firm's belief in the future of Santa Ana and Orange county.

The store has been completely remodeled and repainted. The white enamel finish gives a pleasing appearance, as well as advertising the results to be obtained from a few brushfuls of paint properly applied. In addition to the full line of paints for every purpose, will be carried a complete stock of plate and window glass, mirrors, windshield and automobile glass.

Additional warehouse space has been taken at 1060 East Fourth street to handle the surplus stock necessary for the requirements of a retail and wholesale trade.

H. B. Wilson, formerly manager of the Fuller branch at Santa Monica, is in charge of the new store. Wilson is very enthusiastic regarding conditions in Santa Ana and confidently predicts a big building gain during 1923.

To familiarize the residents of Santa Ana with the quality of Fuller's paints, a sample half-pint can of Fuller's Decorat varnish stain will be given free to each adult visitor next Saturday afternoon and evening. A souvenir spinning top will be given to each child who is accompanied by a parent.

POMONA COLLEGE GLEE CLUB'S PROGRAM STIRS SANTA ANANS

Pomona College Glee club, to appear at First Presbyterian church, Monday at 8 p. m.

Those who had the pleasure of hearing the Pomona College Glee club upon its former appearance in this city, are eagerly anticipating the return engagement at the United Presbyterian church Monday night at 8 o'clock.

On that date one of the glee club's distinctive programs will be presented by the aggregation of twenty-three young college men, each of whom possesses a splendid voice.

Under the direction of Ralph H. Lyman, head of the music department of Pomona college, an unusually interesting and varied program is to be presented by the men, while Professor Lyman accompanies them on tour as one of the chief soloists.

It was said that while the club strives to maintain a reputation for thorough musicianship, it never limits itself to classical numbers alone, but gives many humorous stunts and encores to add to the liveliness of the program.

College humor in its various forms enters into the program and is thoroughly enjoyable because the members of the glee club are drawn from representative college men, the finest type on the campus.

The local appearance of the organization is under the auspices of the Intermediate Christian Endeavor.

DRIVER IS FREED THOUGH JURY DISAGREES

After one of the strangest trials on record in Orange county courts, W. C. Leland was today free from charges of operating an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

After some hesitation and confusion, Leland went to trial before a jury in Superior Judge Z. B. West's court about 2 p. m. yesterday. The trial was scheduled to take place before Superior Judge R. Y. Williams, but the fact that another trial was in progress in that court necessitated the change.

Persons who witnessed the collision between Leland's machine, and another on the Garden Grove boulevard, and Under Sheriff E. E. French, who arrested Leland, testified that he had been drinking.

Leland, his wife, and two men who were riding with them in the automobile testified that Mrs. Leland had been driving when the accident occurred.

The case went to the jury at 3:28 p. m. At 4:02 p. m. the jury reported a disagreement. Attorneys for the state and defense agreed that there was little hope of a verdict, and upon their recommendation, the case was dismissed.

FARM ADVISOR ON AIR BILL TONIGHT

A survey of the agricultural situation in Orange county by H. E. Wehlberg, Orange county farm advisor, will be a feature of the radio program broadcast by KFAW, The Register radio phone, tonight. The bedtime story by Eleanor Young Elliott and musical numbers will round out the program. The broadcasting hour is from 8 to 9 o'clock.

Beginning Monday, Feb. 12, KFAW will be on the air from 6:30 to 7:30 each Monday and Thursday evening. This change has been made in order that radio listeners may hear the KFAW concerts without interference by other programs broadcast from Southern California stations later in the evening.

Among other reports received today was a message from Charles Beelsford, 1885 Grammer street, Cleveland, Ohio, who said:

"KFAW came in strong here Thursday night, Feb. 1. KFAW and KHJ are the only Pacific Coast stations I have ever heard. I am using CR5 hook-up with one tube."

ORANGE SHIPMENTS TO GAIN, FORECAST

The Anaheim Citrus Fruit association will ship 640 cars of oranges during the 1923 season, it was estimated today by W. A. Schureman, secretary and manager. This is an estimated increase of approximately eighty cars over the shipments for the season just closed.

In the annual report of the manager submitted to the grower-members at the annual meeting recently, it was disclosed that the shipments last season were 562 cars, for which the 240 members received net $877,482.

In addition, the members received a refund of 19 cents a box, representing the difference between the actual cost of operations and the cost estimated at the opening of the season.

Schureman was re-elected manager by the board of directors, following organization.

The officers and directors are as follows: George A. Mills, president; S. C. Hartranft, vice president; J. J. Dwyer, Charles Eygabroad, Charles E. Jones, O. E. Stewart, B. L. Chandler, Ben Baxter and E. B. Camp.

FILM DIRECTOR FACES COURT IN RUM CASE

William Campbell, Los Angeles motion picture director, arrested near San Juan Capistrano a few weeks ago, was scheduled to appear before Justice J. B. Cox here at 2 p. m. today for preliminary hearing on charges of operating an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Campbell was arrested on complaint of passing motorists who said that he was incapable of driving his car. He was released on bail after being arraigned before Cox.

S. A. HEIGHTS LOTS QUICK SELLING

Santa Ana Heights Unit No. 2, opened last Saturday, has made good progress since being placed on the market, it was reported. Forty-six acres of the 200 acres to be sold have already been disposed of, the sales running from one to ten-acre blocks. Work on streets, sidewalks and curbs continues under direction of Contractor R. B. Ford.

Bryan & Bradford and William McCoy, the subdividers, have been negotiating with the directors of the Country Club, and it is not unlikely that the new club will be located on some of the acreage located just north of their No. 2 unit.

McCoy is especially proud of the sale of 15 acres made this week to John Cubbon. The latter is a pioneer in this section and the land that he selected is part of the same mesa which he farmed in wheat in 1871.

Two other important sales were made to Linn L. Shaw, prominent Santa Ana realtor, and T. L. Fowler, the contractor. Shaw purchased one and one-half acres located on the southeast corner of Newport road and Del Mar avenue. Shaw will build a splendid home here at once, according to McCoy. Fowler selected three and one-half acres on the northeast corner of Newport road and Del Mar avenue, and has already started a $10,000 home.

Other buyers here include Walter Racker, ten acres; Catherine Randolph, three acres; Martin Moss, one acre; C. B. Brooks, ten acres; W. Ludlam, one acre; J. L. Iver, one acre. The buyers came from Los Angeles, Newport and Santa Ana.

MARRIED IN CITY
ORANGE, Feb. 8.—Friends are today offering congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. T. S. McCollum, recently married in Los Angeles, who have just returned from a brief wedding trip. Mr. McCollum is a rancher on South Tustin street and has lived here for years. His bride was formerly Mrs. Bessie Sinclair of Los Angeles.

Missionary Society.

FIRST BAPTIST.

Women of the First Baptist church met yesterday at 10 a. m. for White Cross work as a beginning to their monthly all-day meeting. At noon an old-fashioned luncheon was served to ninety-three members who greatly enjoyed the appearance of the table and the menu as well.

Quaint pewter plates, a copper tea-pot, a silver "casserole" and quantities of old blue and white china added a delightful touch to the affair while corn dodgers, hoe cake and other favorite dishes of a by-gone day were served and enjoyed.

Honored guests were Mrs. Roach, a returned missionary from Burma who was formerly Miss August Peck; Mrs. Suydam of Corona, and Mrs. Reed, wife of the pastor of the Corona church.

Mrs. Suydam, secretary-director of the Santa Ana Valley Missionary association, gave an interesting talk on "The Power of Prayer" on the afternoon program, while Mrs. Roach, attired in Burmese costume, told of her seventeen years' work in homes, schools, villages and jungles of Burma, whither she and her husband will go at the end of her present year in the states.

Mrs. M. M. Holmes presided over the afternoon business session with Mrs. Earl Morris leading the devotionals. Miss Mame Havens was at the piano for song service, while added music was a charming solo by Miss Alice Folsom, pupil of Leon Eckols, singing "Eye Flath Not Seen."

Mrs. G. P. Hill of Hemet, who is in this city as the guest of her son's family, read many interesting letters from Miss Viola Hill, who has been seriously ill since returning to her work in China.

Plans made during the afternoon included an acceptance of the invitation from societies of other churches to join in a day of prayer February 16. Also for a social to be given in March.

With Miss Grace Roberts, first vice president, taking charge of the session following the business matters, the program of speaking was presented.

FIRST METHODIST.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist church was held Wednesday in the church parlor. Miss B. Collings presiding. Mrs. Fannie Lash, in charge of the devotional exercises, gave a very helpful Bible reading.

Mrs. Hutchins read an interesting leaflet in regard to tithing, giving many instances to show that those who adopted the plan were always blessed.

Mrs. Badrow with Mrs. Snow at the piano very charmingly sang "Father of Light," by Stephen Adams, and "Let I Go Astray," by Crisabene Warren.

Announcement was made of the day of prayer to be held February 16, and also of the Federation of Missionary societies to be held March 21.

Chapter 4 of the study book "The Trend of the Races," was taken up by Mrs. D. J. Palmer, Mrs. C. W. Burns and Mrs. Stone. The subject was "The Negro's Offering to the Stars and Stripes," and each of the ladies gave examples illustrating the patriotism and endurance shown by the negro, not only during the Civil War, but also during the World War.

A cubic foot of water is convertible into 1662 cubic feet of steam.

Rainbow Circle

Girls of the "Rainbow Circle" of the First Christian enjoyed the novelty of attending an old-fashioned school recently. All the girls were dressed as small children in short gingham dresses and with hair in plaited braids or curls.

School was called by the teacher, Mrs. C. C. Kemper, who was dressed to typify an old maid school "marm." After all lessons had been recited, "visitors" enjoyed a program of songs, piano solos and recitations by the pupils. Later all the pupils went fishing, each catching a valentine on his hook. When school was dismissed each pupil received his lunch daintily packed in small boxes decorated with hearts.

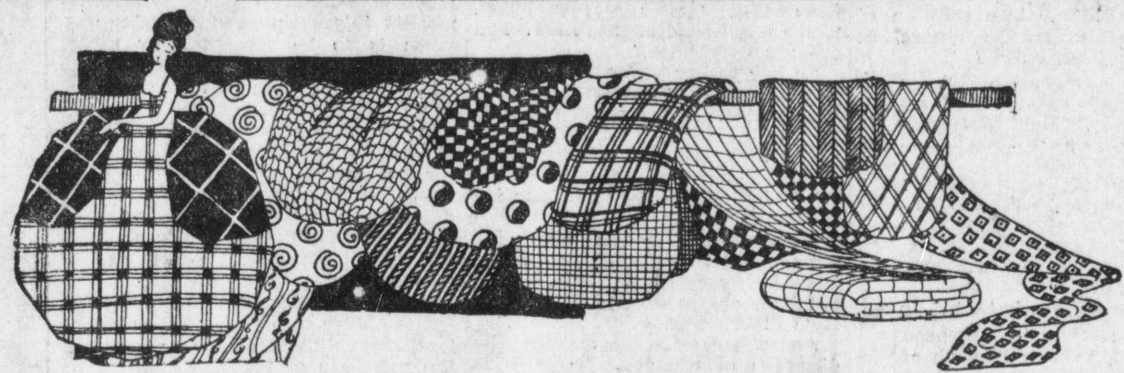

The visitors who were present at the school were: Mrs. Porter, Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Wilson, teacher of the class. The pupils of the school were the Misses Etta M. Conkle, Alice Bachman, Julietta Hagthrop, Evelyn Stevens, Maude Lash, Ruth McGraw, Margaret Kuhl, Maude Hill, Henrietta Lykke, Glenda May Wagner, Eva Turton, Dean Lowery, Muriel Rash, Helen Decker, Lillian Arnold, Cleo Allen, Mable Round, Sue Parsons, Muriel Khud, Mrs. Maud Lash, Mrs. Sue Parsons.

People Expect More for the Money When They Buy Furniture Here

—And We Have Never Disappointed Anybody Yet

This is not a "cheap" store. We have nothing whatever of an inferior character to sell. But we believe, judging by what our customers say, that we are giving the people the utmost for the money.

We have established a regular margin of profit (it's a very small profit, to be sure) and we get that profit on everything that leaves the store. There is nothing strange about our business—we just buy right and sell right, that's all—but it's a fact that people expect a little more for the money when they buy furniture here, and it's a fact that they always get it.

If you are about to furnish a home we want to help you do it. We know the furniture business and besides giving you a perfectly equipped home, we'll save you some money.

Advertising Will Bring Deserved Increase In Growth, Says White

ASKS CO-OPERATION

All Civic Organizations Invited to Join Ambitious Movement

BY EVERETT A. WHITE
(Chairman of Publicity Committee of Santa Ana Realty Board.)

In the proposed organization of a greater Santa Ana club to exploit Santa Ana through an advertising campaign in Los Angeles newspapers, citizens of this community will have opportunity to co-operate in an effort that should result in big increases in population, growth and building development.

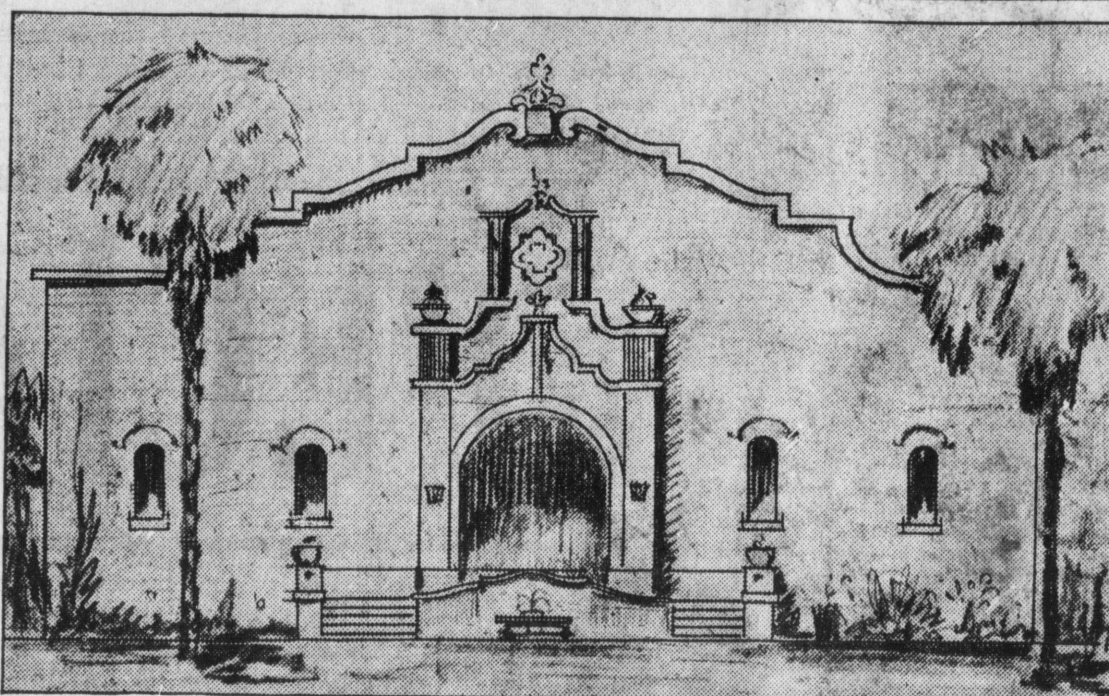

It is proposed to make the movement city-wide and create a general committee to be composed of one representative from each of the clubs and other organizations of the city. I have caused to be sent out invitations to a number of such organizations, as the names were available from the city directory.

Wants All Organizations.
"If there is any organization I have overlooked I would be glad to have the officers make that fact known to me or J. C. Wallace, secretary of the Santa Ana Realty board. It is desired to have the club represent every phase of social, moral, religious, educational, business and industrial life of this community.

The greater Santa Ana club is not a project of the Santa Ana Realty Board although the movement was initiated at a meeting of

GARDEN GROVE WOMEN'S FETE TO SWELL $10,000 CLUBHOUSE FUND

Artist's view of the proposed Women's Civic clubhouse at Garden Grove, which was estimated to cost $10,000. A benefit performance has been planned for Saturday afternoon on the grounds of the Garden Grove high school, all proceeds to go to the clubhouse building fund.

STRESS FAITH IMPOSED ON REALTOR

Declaring that there is no greater responsibility in any line of endeavor than that of locating a family on a ranch or in a city home, the Santa Ana Realty board has forwarded to Governor Friend W. Richardson a letter stressing the necessity for adoption of a law by which men selling real estate must take an examination as to qualifications be-

Featuring an entertainment program announcing stunts by virtually all Lions clubs of Orange county, a benefit show will be staged in the Garden Grove high school grounds Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock for the building fund of the Garden Grove Women's Civic club, it was learned today.

Troops of Boy Scouts of America, the Long Beach Lions club and municipal band, speakers from Santa Ana, Orange, Anaheim, Huntington Beach and Brea also were named on the program.

Two women's baseball teams, the Long Beach Boston Bloomers, and Garden Grove's Nifty Feminine Nine will battle for the inter-county pennant during the afternoon.

To Benefit Fund.
All proceeds will go toward erecting a $10,000 clubhouse a half-mile west of Garden Grove on the Long Beach boulevard, west of Ocean avenue, it was said.

A series of plays are planned for the near future to help swell the fund, which at last report had reached $1200.

Officers of the club named were Mrs. Jane B. Kelsey, president; Mrs. C. B. Henry, vice-president; Mrs. Jack Jentges, recording secretary; Mrs. Harry Lewis, treasurer, and Mrs. H. B. Hoenshel, corresponding secretary.

Modern Clubhouse.
Plans and specifications of the proposed women's clubhouse call for a stucco front structure, capable of seating 500 persons, complete with a kitchen, motion picture operator's booth, coat room, dressing rooms, banquet room, and other conveniences.

Work on the building was to begin within three months that the clubhouse may be ready for occupancy this year, according to expressed desires of the women.

$65,000 LEMON HOUSE TO BE CONSTRUCTED

With the purchase of three acres from Fred Dielerker, the Central Lemon Growers' association has definitely selected a site for its new lemon house. The site and house together will represent an investment of $60,000 or $65,000.

The acreage bought for the lemon house lies on West Walnut street, Orange, west of and adjoining the Santa Fe tracks. A petition is to be sent at once to the state railroad commission for permission for the installation of side tracks. It is expected that the permit will be granted and other preliminaries gotten out of the way so that building of the house may begin about July 1.

Action toward the construction of an additional lemon house was taken at the annual meeting of the association recently. At that time E. B. Collier, manager of the association, called attention to the fact that the history of the industry shows that the second year after a severe cold snap brings a very heavy lemon crop and that the big lemon house at Villa Park with its capacity of 450 cars a season and the Red Fox house at Orange with its capacity of 100 cars cannot care for the large increase expected. The association through the Villa Park and Red Fox houses is handling the product of 1650 acres now, and both houses are crowded during the busy season and together could not handle the big crop expected in 1924.

The new house on West Walnut will open with a capacity of 300 carloads a season and will later be increased to 450.

S. A. GROWTH STORY TOLD BY GROCER

The story of Santa Ana's stable prosperity and amazing growth during the last fifteen years is well told by the corner grocery store, according to C. D. Senoff, special traveling representative of a firm of Los Angeles wholesale grocers, who has been covering this territory for that number of years.

Senoff was interviewed in his room at the Rossmore hotel, for which he has had a standing reservation two days of each week during the decade and a half of regular visits to Santa Ana.

"Fifty grocery stores now stand where one stood before," he said in classic paraphrase.

"One grocer today is doing business in Santa Ana who was established when I made my first business visit to this city, which then could hardly be called a town.

"In those days, fifteen years ago, I covered all Orange county. My customers were mine exclusively. Competition meant nothing.

"Today I cover only Santa Ana, Anaheim, Fullerton and the larger communities in the county. Three other men from my house have regular routes in the county.

"Eight Los Angeles and probably six outside houses, exclusive grocery jobbing houses, now are active competitors here. Each one of them sends one or more salesmen into this territory.

"During my regular weekly visits here I have seen the orange orchards creep across the county, the rich strides of oil derricks, the development of the Placentia district, and the planting of the numerous crops that have made Orange county famed for its stable prosperity.

"It seems but a few years ago that grain was waving in the fields where the Santa Ana Polytechnic high school now stands. Each time I come I am startled by the rapidly spreading residence district about the high school.

Grocery Tells Story
"The corner grocery store tells the story of increased population. As soon as a new district is opened the grocer opens his shop to serve the people living there.

"Orange county retail grocers in the old days were dependent on the freight train to bring their goods from the wholesale house.

"That no longer is true. The goods are sold f. o. b. the buyer's door, and motor trucks make delivery. The motor truck has saved money, time, labor and the good will of our customers.

"In those old days, too, we traveling men traveled by train. Travel then was a slow business. We called at one city a day; taking a much longer time to cover our appointed territory.

"Today we travel by automobile; cover more territory in quicker time, and do many times the amount of business we did years ago, despite competition and loss of the desirable exclusive customer.

"Yes, Santa Ana and Orange county comprise a rich territory, and the corner grocery tells the story."

CALIFORNIA IS PRAISED IN FLORIDA

Carl Mock, S. A. Realtor, to Tell Impressions at Luncheon

Realtors all over the nation are talking California and all are abiding the time when they may become residents of this state, according to Carl Mock, who was a delegate from the Santa Ana Realty board to the national convention of Real Estate associations held at Jacksonville, Fla., January 17, 18, 19 and 20.

Mock will tell local realtors of his impressions of Florida and recount features of the convention at the weekly luncheon of the local board to be held at St. Ann's Inn at noon tomorrow, it was announced today.

Incidentally, Mock says that while the Florida oranges are little sweeter than those grown in California, the fruit does not compare in size or color with the local product. Trees, he says, do not look as thrifty as here.

Boosts Santa Ana
Mock "put over" some good publicity for Santa Ana and Orange county while at the convention. He also made some criticism of the Florida product and escaped with his life, but secured one piece of publicity that was of particular interest to him, as it was the result of a newspaper man overhearing Mock and a realtor kidding each other over the merits of the oranges produced in the two states.

The scribe took the "kidding" seriously and wrote the following article:

"We Call 'em Culls"
"Oh, these oranges you fellows are giving out are all right; they taste pretty good, but, say, out in California, we call oranges like these 'culls' and don't offer them as first grade at all."

"Thus did F. C. Mock, of Santa Ana, Orange county, California, express his opinion of the citrus fruit being distributed by South Florida realtors, under the general supervision of W. L. Green, secretary of the Miami Realty Board.

"Of course, I am not knocking, you understand," Mock continued, "but, really now, the 'Sunkist' orange has much finer texture, and an absolutely uniform color. Why, these oranges you fellows are putting out are discolored, lots of 'em, and would be rated as 'culls' out where I came from."

Not in Hospital
Mock is not in the hospital, probably because the Florida contingent didn't hear him make those remarks. He was talking to a newspaper man, who is expected to be entirely impartial as to recording facts.

"Why, Orange county, in California, is the greatest place on earth," Mr. Mock began to warm up to his subject. "We grow the greatest crop of English walnuts in the world, and the finest citrus fruit that ever was picked grows right there in that county."

"And climate! Why, man, there is no climate under the heavens that can equal it."

"Mr. Mock said he was not going to make the all-Florida tour with the Realtors. He would have to bask in Miami's climate for a while if he did."

NEWELL PURCHASES 5 ACRES AT TUSTIN
A. C. Newell this week came into possession of five acres of the Irvine subdivision, Tustin, through purchase from George J. Brown, it was reported today from Tustin.

Lorena Halderman has sold the residence property at 1521 Durant street to Sue H. Smith, according to announcement.

Herbert Gruenewald has come into possession of the John Boose residence on East Seventeenth through an exchange of Laguna Beach property, it was announced.

H. A. Rurup, of West Orange, has purchased from Ina L. Cope a tract of twenty-four acres west of the Santa Ana river, in the west Orange district.

John Huckins, who came recently from Berkeley to accept a position with the city, has purchased of Clyde Gates the new residence property at 510 Wisteria place. The residence has just been completed. The owner took possession today.

J. H. Hook has sold his residence at 726 Orange avenue to Clyde Gates, local builder. It is understood that Hook and his family have moved to an interior city in the hope of benefitting Hook's health.

All Lynwood Lots Sold, Nine Houses Going Up, Says Report

All lots in the Lynwood tract, the East Fourth street subdivision opened by Roy Russell and Dr. F. W. Slough a few months ago, have been sold, it was announced today at the office of Shaw and Russell, sales agents for the tract.

Nine houses are now under construction, it was announced, and lot owners contemplate the erection of several others, it was announced.

There were forty-five lots in the subdivision, which is immediately east of the New John Muir school.

STILL LOTS OF ROOM FOR SUBDIVIDERS IN SANTA ANA, OPINION

Headway made with lots in Woodlawn, the north side subdivision opened February 1 by Wayland Wood and A. J. Smiley, disproves the idea that Santa Ana is opening up too many of these new home sites in the opinion of a local realtor. The sales record here for the first six days shows thirteen lots have been sold.

Work will be rushed on sidewalks, curbs and paved streets by Wood and Smiley.

Woodlawn is situated on Washington avenue, between Farton and Flower streets. Washington avenue is to be paved by the city from Broadway west to Lowell street and the subdividers of Woodlawn expect this to have a beneficial effect on their new tract.

SALESMEN MUST BE LICENSED, DECISION

All salesmen employed by owners of real estate must be licensed. This is the decision of the attorney-general in an opinion recently issued to State Real Estate Commissioner Edwin T. Keiser, according to the California Real Estate Association news service.

NEARING $500,000 MARK IN CONSTRUCTION BEGUN THIS YEAR, DECKER SAYS

Showing the rapidity with which homes are being constructed in Santa Ana, building permits issued during the first six days of this month represented a construction value of $96,516, yet no permit was issued for an amount in excess of $8,000, it was shown today by the records of W. S. Decker, building inspector.

Permits for this year to date already have shown the building total within an acre of a half million dollars.

Decker issued 164 permits representing $339,134 in buildings January of this year, as against 106 permits representing $219,476 in buildings January of last year.

For the year, 208 permits had been issued at noon yesterday.

"Yet," Decker explained, "none of the big permits promised have been issued. It would seem that our building program this year will run well over $6,000,000."

"Many big buildings have been announced as ready for construction work to begin. Plans and specifications have been completed for several of them."

"The Y. M. C. A. building probably will be the first of these high points in the year's building program. The permit, I am told, will indicate a building cost of $200,000."

"The new office building and exchange of the telephone company is expected to be started soon. It will call for another $200,000 permit, according to reports."

Definite announcement that the First National bank will erect a six-story bank and office building promises a permit running to about $500,000.

More Schools.
"Report from the buyers of the $400,000 issue of school bonds should be returned soon. Assuming that the issue is declared valid by the buyers' attorneys, undoubtedly plans will be ready to expend this money for school buildings, which the board of education has declared are urgently needed."

"The plans so far announced as tentative call for a new junior high school to cost approximately

Selling real estate is a profession and not a game, according to Freeman H. Bloodgood, local realtor and first real estate commissioner of California.

Bloodgood is one of the ardent supporters of a proposed new real estate law making provision that applicants for licenses submit to examination. He declares that any person selling real estate in California should have thorough knowledge of values, soil conditions and their adaptation to cultivation of certain products.

Says Alertness Needed.
"Of all the states in the Union California makes the heaviest demand upon the realtors," says the former commissioner. "Our climate is the most varied, condition-that board. Present were a number of the most substantial citizens of Santa Ana and they voted unanimously to create such an organization. The really board has assumed responsibility for the work preliminary to the creating of a general committee.

It should not be necessary to give reasons in argument for the advantages that will result from an organization to promote a publicity campaign. There are, however, three outstanding points why such a club and publicity campaign should be conducted for Santa Ana, as follows:

First. There are no communities conducting such a campaign which can offer greater advantages than can Santa Ana, and we believe that we have many things to offer, which, possibly, are not found in other communities.

Second. It is probably a fact that Santa Ana is not growing as rapidly and is not receiving the increase in population that other communities are which are located closer to Los Angeles. Los Angeles is the end of the trail of all roads. All trains stop there and we should take advantage of this opportunity of advertising our community to the thousands of new tourists and home-seekers arriving there.

Third. Competition is demanding that this community take some action if we expected to keep abreast with the wonderful growth which is taking place in Southern California and other cities of our size and opportunity. Such cities as Santa Monica, Alhambra and Riverside are conducting publicity campaigns.

New Theaters.

"I expect that one or more theater buildings will be erected here this year. One of them now under consideration calls for an expenditure of approximately $300,000.

"Homes, however, I have no doubt, will continue to hold the majority interest in building permits, both as to number and value of construction planned, this year as they did last year.

"Subdividers give daily reports of homes being started as soon as lots are sold. Many of these land men are building homes on these new properties nine or more at a time.

"This will be another and a greater building year for Santa Ana."

There are lots of good ways of doing things, but there is always one BEST way of doing everything. There are several ways of plowing beans but there is only one BEST way. There are different methods of swimming, but only one BEST way. There are many different ideas regarding the teaching of children, but the only BEST way is by example.

There are a good many ways of saving money, nearly all of them good, but the only BEST way for the small investor to save money and MAKE money is through the system of the Mutual Building and Loan Association. Herbert Hoover says so, and he knows.

When one goes so far as to say that he has the BEST thing in his line, he ought to be made to prove it. That's exactly what we want to do. We want to prove it to YOU.

Our installment stock pays you seven per cent compounded monthly, and there are absolutely no strings tied to it. There is absolutely no possibility of you losing anything. There is absolutely no question about you getting your seven per cent compounded.

Of course the more you invest the better off you are, but all you need, to prosper in the Home Mutual Building and Loan Association is One Dollar and a desire to be successful.

HUNTINGTON SQUARE LISTS MANY OWNERS

The list of lot owners in Huntington Square has been added to during the past week by sales made to the following:

C. W. Tinsley, R. S. Riffe, Warren C. Fletcher, M. A. Carmichael, George G. Chalmers, Mrs. Alice Lee Hatch, J. D. Sanborn, S. Le Blanc and Mrs. Sylvia G. Richards.

Bungalows which will soon be ready for occupancy are those being built by Aldrich H. Worswick, H. E. Lincoln and George Chalmers. The sidewalk and curb work has advanced rapidly since the weather has permitted these improvements, and the entire tract should be finished in another week.

Two tract offices are maintained here—one at Olive and Tenth streets and the other at Washington avenue and Olive street. Three new houses will be started here within the next few days, according to D. C. Huntington, the subdivider.

SILVER ACRES HALF SOLD WILLMAX SAYS

Half of the thirty lots and half-acre tracts at Silver Acres have been sold, Max M. Smith of Willmax Land company declared today. Silver Acres was the old Freeman place between West Fifth street and the Garden Grove boulevard, he said.

"Improvements are being put in," Smith said. "Our idea was to create a place for small farm homes, where the owner could enjoy cultivating a piece of land, and have all the pleasure of farm life combined with the convenience of city life."

"We are installing a water system, paving, street improvements and other conveniences."

ed by a stretch of 850 miles north and south, embracing mighty mountains, vast inland valleys, more than 65 different kinds of soil, rainfall varying from nothing to 60 inches annually, temperature ranging the whole gamut of the thermometer, water supply differing widely throughout the state—all these conditions imperatively demand men of keen intellect to grasp, and alertness to keep up to date.

"A tremendous responsibility confronts the California realtors because so many of their clients are from Eastern states and are little versed in conditions here. Our present state license act protects in a way against dishonest dealing, but it does not require any educational qualification. All conscientious realtors realize that the real estate business in California should be a profession, far removed from any symptoms of a game."

Urges Better Service.

"Protection of the purchaser and the stabilizing of the profession require a high standard both as to education and integrity. We need a qualification test, whereby a knowledge of the real estate business and the rights and obligations involved in transacting are assured the public."

"Better service, safer investments, the right people on the right land, more rapid development and increasing happiness will follow a higher standard of qualifications on the part of realtors."

"Real estate transactions are basic. All progress harks back to safe and sane leadership of the realtors."

BEISEL BUYS BRYDON BROTHERS' BUSINESS

A new sign will displace that of Brydon Bros. over the entrance of the leather goods and luggage shop at 305 West Fourth street, it was learned today from Neal Beisel, who has purchased the business.

"I began the Brydon Brothers' store here in Santa Ana," said Beisel, "and now I have bought it for myself. The store has been doing business here nineteen and a half years, during which time I have been manager."

"I shall make no change in policy, but shall continue to serve customers with the best leather goods and luggage obtainable."

"Leather goods now cost one-third or even 50 per cent less than during wartime. Business is good."

Baker's Cocoa

is the ideal drink for growing children

Not only does its delicious flavor and aroma appeal to the palate but it supplies the body with a considerable amount of pure, wholesome and nutritious food.

Children, owing to their almost ceaseless activity, frequently require as large an amount of nourishment as adults, and good cocoa is a valuable aid in the carefully arranged diet. But its quality must be good and no cocoa can quite so well meet the requirements of dietitian, physician, nurse or housekeeper as "BAKER'S."

THREE WEEKS AGO in co-operation with Chandler Furniture Company, Nickey Hardware Co., and other local merchants, I launched a six room "model home" on W. 19th street, inviting the inspection of all who might be interested in construction, furnishing, or equipping a home.

THE PUBLIC RESPONDED to my invitation in surprising numbers, 1008 visitors being shown through the house in two afternoons, which, considering that the property was well off the beaten path of travel, was a wonderful demonstration of the local interest in matters pertaining to the home.

HOUSE WAS QUICKLY SOLD, necessitating discontinuance of the demonstration, so quickly in fact that a great many who called the following week were too late.

A WIDE-OPEN INVITATION is now extended to all who might be interested in seeing my five-room "model house" just completed at 935 W. Camile street, which will be open for inspection SATURDAY FEB. 10th from 10 A. M. to 9 P. M. and SUNDAY 1 to 5 P. M.

CHANDLER'S ARE AGAIN doing the furnishing, and with more time at their disposal than in the previous case, have embodied many novel, tasteful and artistic features which make this home well worth seeing—even though you may have seen the other one. Nickey Hardware Co., have again furnished the china and glassware and Carl G. Strock is supplying a late model Edison phonograph.

AFTER THE OPEN-HOUSE demonstration is over the property will be offered for sale, with or without furnishings, but for the present YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED to come and look it over, whether you are in the market to buy a home or not.

HOUSE VERY SIMILAR in design to the one on 19th street, which created so much favorable comment, except that it has two bedrooms instead of three, and is identical with the other in the high quality of materials and substantial construction throughout. Lot is 50x124 ft., paving paid. Price completely furnished $7,800.00, or unfurnished, $6,000.00. Situated midway between high school and grammar school and fully restricted Brooklyn Square is ideally located and from the standpoint of actual home construction is by odds Santa Ana's fastest growing subdivision. Paving on Camile street was completed and the tract officially opened in August of last year and today good homes are built or under construction on all but 9 of the 40 lots on the street, including four that I am just starting.

PLEA FOR RATE PROBE FILED BY GAS CO.

The Southern Counties Gas company has applied to the railroad commission for an investigation of the reasonableness of the rates that the company charges for natural gas supplied to its southern district, consisting of the cities of Long Beach and Seal Beach and the Wilmington and San Pedro districts of Los Angeles, and contiguous territory, according to word received here today.

The company states in its application that it has been supplying this territory with natural gas since 1916, and that during the past year there has been discovered and developed adjacent to the city of Long Beach the Signal Hill oil field, which has produced large quantities of natural gas, a considerable portion of which is being sold by the applicant to supply its customers in the southern district.

Owing to the proximity of the Signal Hill oil field to the city of Long Beach the officials of that city have demanded that the rates now in effect be reduced, alleging that the present charges are excessive.

The company requests the railroad commission to inquire into the reasonableness of the rates charged in the southern district of the applicant's system, and if they are found to be unreasonable, to establish new rates that will be fair and equitable to all concerned.

BEACH JUDGE HANDS OUT MAXIMUM UNDER WRIGHT ACT LIMITS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 8.—The maximum penalty allowed under the Wright act for transporting liquor was this morning imposed by Police Judge C. W. Warner upon Lester F. Easley, Huntington Beach charged by Police Officer Perry Ballard and John Stanton with having 44 pints of whiskey in his automobile when they arrested him last night on Magnolia avenue here. It is understood that Easley will pay his fine.

This is the second time that Judge Warner has imposed the maximum sentence on men charged with transporting liquor.

MOTOR VEHICLE ACT LEGALITY IN DOUBT

Validity of the state motor vehicle act was in doubt today, following decision late yesterday afternoon by the state supreme court holding that the state highway commission is without authority to establish rates of speed at dangerous points on highways.

In other words, motorists may travel over bridges at any speed they choose up to the speed limit for highways provided in the act. The act delegates to the commission authority to modify speed regulations provided by the act when it is deemed necessary as a matter of safety.

The commission has established fifteen miles an hour as the regulation for bridges. The court holds that there is nothing in the law to make violations of speed limits fixed by the commission a violation of the act itself.

The opinion was handed down in the case of Fred McLean, of Los Angeles, who was arrested for driving over the Colorado street bridge at Eagle Rock City at the rate of twenty-eight miles an hour. He was discharged.

BEACH CLUB VIEWS S. A. ROTARY SKIT

Thirty members of Santa Ana Rotary club attended the weekly luncheon of Long Beach Rotary at Long Beach yesterday. The luncheon program was in charge of the Santa Anans.

The feature of the affair was the presentation of a playlet, "The Rotary Manufacturing Company, Inc., written by local members. The playlet was first produced in Santa Ana, and its cleverness and the excellence of its presentation caused it to be called for by other clubs. It has now been presented at Orange, Anaheim, Fullerton, Santa Barbara, Corona and Long Beach.

Yesterday the Long Beach club presented Mrs. June Hamilton Rhodes, who has a leading part with a beautiful bouquet of roses.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c. —Adv.

KOLB AND DILL HERE AT YOST TONIGHT.

The perennial favorites, Kolb and Dill, without whom no theatrical year would be complete, coming in a new play by Aaron Hoffman, "Now and Then," a Volsteadian concoction crowded with chuckles, will be the attraction at the Yost theater tonight. As heretofore, Kolb and Dill carry with them their own special orchestra, a symphonic-jazz organization which has occasioned favorable comment.

"Now and Then," with unerring lines, paints the conditions prior and subsequent to the passage of the law which made this land a field for bootleggers, law breakers and prohibition enforcement officials. Brilliant dialogue, just the variety in which Kolb and Dill revel, crams "Now and Then" to capacity with uproarious laughter.

Kolb takes the role of an ardent prohibitionist and Dill first as a saloonkeeper and later as an influential bootlegger. The eternal war between the twin keeps audiences in a continuous uproar, according to press notices.

In addition to the principal comedians, the cast numbers: May Cloy, Julia Blanc, John Fee, Wilbur Cushman, Charles Yule, Frank Wallace, Allyn Lewis, Jack Whittemore and others.

TWO PLACENTIA MEN HIT TRUCK IN FOG

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 8.—Two Placentia young men, employed here, figured in an accident on the Huntington Beach highway, south of the Westminster road, about midnight last night when their car collided with a truck which they said was parked on the side of the road in a dense fog. Clyde Cagle, 24 years old, was thrown from the car and rendered unconscious until this morning. His companion, Dan Moore, was scratched about the head and body. The two men said they could not determine whether the parked truck had a tail light or not. The local police department is investigating the matter for traffic law violation. Chief Jack Tinsley stated.

BEACH POLICE TAKE TWO MEN FROM HOUSE

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 8.—C. W. Rhodes, 22 years old, and H. C. Brummer, 20 years old, were arrested last night in a bungalow court on Main street and were fined $30 or 30 days in jail when they appeared this morning in police court.

J. N. Wiggs, 49 years old, was arrested for possessing liquor but has not been tried as yet. Harry Robinson, a local soda clerk, was arrested for drunkenness. Robinson, who the police say is an old offender, is also awaiting disposition of his case.

BARTHELMESS HAS MASTERFUL ROLE IN "FURY."

They thought he had a "yellow streak."

He took the cuffs of "Dog" Layton submissively.

But "Dog" Layton was captain of the ship and his father.

He cringed when rough sea-faring men clashed.

But he forgot his fear when one of them aimed a knife at another, and he seized it, hurling it overboard, only to be beaten again for the act. He swallowed his father's scorn of women. But he rebelled when the captain discredited the girl he loved, and he who had been weak became a man of terrible purpose when he learned from the lips of his dying father of the wrong that had been done his mother by another man.

That is the picture of "Boy" Layton, second mate of the four-masted schooner "Lady Spray," masterfully portrayed by Richard Barthelmess in "Fury," the picture which will be shown at the Yost theater tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday.

Douglas MacLean does best work in "HOTTENTOT." Douglas MacLean is dynamic in his characterization of Sam Harrington, the man who is mortally afraid of horses, in the new comedy drama special, "The Hottentot."

MacLean will be remembered chiefly for his work in "Twenty-Three and a Half Hours Leave," with Doris May. He has appeared in a number of Ince productions, but his best comedy work is in "The Hottentot."

He wins the sympathy of his audience and tremendous applause when, after a number of absurdly funny situations, he is forced, in spite of his dread of horses, to ride "The Hottentot" because he has been mistaken for a famous steeplechase rider.

Loosen Up That Cold With Musterole

Have Musterole handy when a cold starts. It has all of the advantages of grandmother's mustard plaster WITHOUT the blister. You just apply it with the fingers. First you feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then comes a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Made of pure oil of mustard and other simple ingredients, Musterole is recommended by many nurses and doctors. Try Musterole for bronchitis, sore throat, stiff neck, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, croup, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back or joints, sore muscles, sprains, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest. FIRST PRESBYTERIANS OF COUNTY GREET MODERATOR AND OTHER CHURCH HEADS

Following a successful meeting that he conducted here last night, the Rev. Dr. Calvin S. Hays, moderator of the General Assembly of the First Presbyterian church, and for the past 32 years pastor of the church at Johnstown, Pa., left Santa Ana today for Riverside, where tonight he will conduct the last meeting of a series he has been holding in Southern California the past week, and from there will return to his home, with Albuquerque, N. M., as the only scheduled stop en route.

The Rev. William S. Holt, associate secretary of the Board of Ministerial Relief and Sustentation, who also addressed the meeting held here, was scheduled to leave Santa Ana this evening for Visalia, en route to his home in Philadelphia. He is a brother of Mrs. E. E. Ramsdale, 1131 Orange avenue, this city, and today he and two of his sisters for the first time in many years held a reunion. A sister, Mrs. George R. Kinton, of Long Beach, came here to join her other relatives for the day.

Mrs. W. A. Waid, of New York, who is a member of the Women's Board of Home Missions, and who represents that board and the Foreign Mission board, was another of the speakers here. She went to Long Beach today, where she was scheduled to address a large group of women in the Presbyterian church of that city.

Bring Activities Message
 The three have been touring the Southland and bringing to members of the denomination messages of the program of the church in various activities.

They left Santa Ana with a warm feeling for the city and county, following a big dinner and meeting at the local church last night, when approximately 300 men and women representing the various churches of the county extended greetings and heard the messages of the visitors.

The hundred persons were present at a banquet held in the ment early in the evening, when greetings were extended by representatives of the churches at Orange, Anaheim, Fullerton, Tustin, Laguna Beach and San Juan Capistrano.

The Rev. W. S. McDougall, pastor of the Tustin church, delivered the greetings from that church and presented the distinguished visitors with a small box of oranges and walnuts, the only presentation of the kind made during the evening.

Speakers Introduced
 The Rev. William E. Roberts, pastor of the local church, presided at the after-dinner program, and later introduced Judge W. H. Thomas, of this city, who presented Dr. Guy Wadsworth, of Los Angeles. The latter briefly outlined building projects of the church in Southern California, disclosing that fifty-one of the 101 organizations in this section either have recently completed new edifices, or have them under way, or in contemplation. He said the program involved the expenditure of $2,500,000.

Community singing, led by E. E. Newman, was a feature of the dinner hour.

Following the program in the basement the members repaired to the church auditorium, where the trio of church workers made short addresses, with Thomas presiding.

Declaring that the form of government under which the United States is operating was patterned after that of the Presbyterian church, the moderator asserted that the church is progressive and is always ready to change its methods to meet new conditions.

Tells Church Principles
 Stating that it often is heard that a Presbyterian is a Presbyterian because his parents were such, the head of the church declared that a member should have a better reason to offer for being a member than to say he was such because he "was born that way."

He pointed to the foundation principles of the church, and said there are four things characterizing the denomination—missionary, education, civil righteousness and progress.

"We do not believe in a union of the church and state, but we do believe the church should look after the state and stand for observance of the Sabbath, the law, and other things that make for good citizenship," said the moderator.

"Our church stands for efficient progress. We have had our own methods, but we have not been so narrow-minded as not to co-operate with other denominations when such co-operation offered opportunity for better work in the field of Christian endeavor."

Official Boards Reduced
 Supporting his statement that the church is progressive, he pointed to reduction by the general assembly of the number of official boards from sixteen to four. He asserted that it means greater efficiency and greater economy.

Mrs. Waid recalled that women's organization started in the period of the Civil War, when women found a useful work to be done in the church field. She told of the extensive work that is being done in the missionary field. She carried her auditors through various countries where missionary activities have effected great changes in conditions and in the lives of human beings.

She regretted that of the 1,000,000 women in the United States identified with the denomination she represents, less than half that number were identified with the missionary societies.

Speaking in general terms, she said that 65 per cent of the children of Protestant families were outside of the sphere of religious instruction.

"If these children, or a good percentage of them, were receiving proper religious education, we would have no fear for the church of the future," said the representative of the mission boards.

Emphasizes Statement
 Judge Thomas emphasized this statement by saying that he had secured information from the state parole officer disclosing that 75 per cent of the criminals confined in San Quentin and Folsom were under 25 years of age.

"I wonder what the report would be if the church could get hold of the 65 per cent of Protestant children who do not receive religious education," said Judge Thomas.

The Rev. Mr. Holt impressed on his hearers the necessity of establishing a mark and driving to that mark year by year in advancing the church. He spoke as the representative of all the boards and agencies of the church, and offered the following epigram for the boards: Home missions, statesmanship of the church; foreign missions, obligation of the church; education, hope of the church; ministerial relief sympathy of the church.

In closing the meeting, Judge Thomas expressed his pleasure at having been accorded the privilege of being with the trio of church representatives on their itinerary in Southern California, and vouched for the loyalty of the county churches in support of the administration of the denomination. Judge Thomas presided at all the meetings held by the "troupe," as the travellers were frequently referred to last night.

fore being granted a real estate license. The letter was signed by F. C. Pope, president; J. C. Wallace, secretary, and Freeman H. Bloodgood, former president of the local board.

"California has the greatest diversity of soils, climate, soil products, irrigation problems and influx of new settlers of any state in the union," said the communication.

Asserting that the state soil and mineral bureaus have expended more than $100,000 in surveys making and maps and text covering soil conditions in the state, the letters said that "certain real estate dealers of California feel that real estate brokers should know the goods they sell—know what is available to know to protect investors to the end that the right trees may be set in the right soils and the right family located on the right land."

It was also declared that a broker should have some knowledge as to the correct forms for leasing, renting, deed and mortgage properties.

Ask For Examiners
 To accomplish this end it is pointed out that brokers are asking adoption of a measure establishing a board of real estate broker examiners, whose duty it shall be to examine such brokers and certify the competent to the real estate commissioner for licenses.

"This measure is self-supporting, costing the state not one cent," reads the letter. "It is needed to stabilize the real estate business and put it on a basis of ability to render service through intelligence."

IMPORTANT TO ALL WOMEN READERS OF THIS PAPER

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be dependent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle of Swamp-Root. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.—Adv.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen, of Rochester, N. Y., 57 years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved from his system.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allen's, to others who were suffering from the disease. He has therefore instructed druggists everywhere to dispense Allen's with the understanding that if the first pill bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will give return money without comment.

TROUBLE IS OVER STATES DITTMAN

Declares Tanlac Ended Indigestion, Nausea, Weakness and Nervousness of Years Standing.

"Tanalac has given me strength and endurance I hardly expected," declared A. Dittman, 734 W. 56th St., Los Angeles, Calif.

"I suffered from a badly run-down condition several years and was never able to get back my strength. I could not do a good day's work, and at night just felt so tired out I just had to drag myself home. I was nervous, couldn't sleep, and morning would me still all worn out. I had practically no appetite, would become dreadfully nauseated, and my stomach was so fearfully upset I was simply miserable. My kidneys bothered me too. I had distressing attacks of biliousness and was subject to bad spells of dizziness.

"But since taking Tanlac I can work hard all day and go home feeling fine. I sleep like a log, stomach acts perfectly, nerves steady, and I couldn't ask better health. Tanlac will always have my highest praise."

Tanalac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35-million bottles sold.—Adv.

SENIORS NAB WILD FRACAS FROM SOPHS

Second Year Team Hammers Thoele from Mound In Belated Rally

Despite a sizzling last inning rally on the part of the sophomores during which Bernard Thoele, twirling for the seniors, was driven to cover, the last year men won their clash from the second year outfit in last night's inter-class series tilt at the high school. The final score was 7 to 6.

The 7 to 6 score was what the scorebook showed. Umpire "Chick" Brown ruled it was 8 to 7 in favor of the senior team. The seniors didn't know what the score was but they were sure they had won. The sophomores maintained the count was a tie, 8 to 8 and wanted to play another inning in the dark.

Coach "Spud" Morrison, present at a teachers' meeting, was not on hand to settle the hostilities. Umpire Brown gave it up as a bad job. The score man left after the field was so dark that "Benny" Wilcox, who replaced Thoele on the hill for the seniors, looked like the Statue of Liberty.

Ted Coffman started the game on the mound for the seniors and hurled some good baseball. When he gave it up in the last spasm his club was in the van 7 to 2.

Thoele wanted a chance to do his stuff on the slab. He was jerked fifteen minutes later with sophs perched on every sack, one out and the score 6 to 4. Wilcox, who had been playing first base, went to the mound, and retired the side with but one more rally.

The lineups:
 Seniors: Coffman, Thoele, Wilcox, Jabs, Coffman, Wilcox, Thoele, Johnson, Stillens, Finley, Gardner, Black, Richle, Howell, RF.
 Sophomores: Spencer, Wurster, Watts, Bickford, Schuchardt, Middlebrook, Carmack, Kirmise, Dawson.

GORMAN, SHANNON GO TO TEN ROUND DRAW

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 8.—Joe Gorman and Eddie Shannon, featherweights fought a ten round draw here last night, according to two judges and a referee. The decision did not satisfy the fans who thought Gorman should have had the decision. Frankie Grandetta beat Young Brown and Johnny Fugate fought a draw with Joe Black.

BROOKLYN READY TO TRADE "ZACK" WHEAT

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Charles Ebbetts, owner of the Brooklyn Robins, returned from a tour of Europe and announced that "Zack" Wheat has been in Brooklyn too long; that he will sell the club if he gets his price; and that the ball players' union is awful.

BENTLEY AFTER PART OF PURCHASE PRICE

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 8.—If the Baltimore Orioles do not give him part of the $65,000 which the Giants paid for him, his new owners will have to give him $5,000 before he will sign a contract, Jack Bentley, star pitcher and first baseman, announced.

WAITE HOYT RETURNS FROM TRIP TO JAPAN

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—All of the players who made the trip to Japan had a fine time and they all returned in splendid condition, according to Waite Hoyt, the first of the barnstormers to return to New York. Hoyt announced he wasn't anxious to be traded from the Yankees to the White Sox.

County Golf Fans See Champion Set New Hacienda Mark

the national open golf champion, who yesterday afternoon gave Orange county fans a thrill by shattering the course record at the Hacienda Country club, north of Fullerton.

Paired with Jock Hutchinson, Sarazen defeated Abe Walker, club professional, and Joe Hegerman 6 up in an 18-hole match. The champion shot the nine holes in 71, two better than the former mark. Both Sarazen and Hutchinson said the Hacienda course was one of the best nine hole links they had ever played over.

Beyond showing twice that he is the champion of Mike O'Dowd, Johnny Wilson hasn't done a thing much in two years.

Johnny failed to convince the New York Boxing commission that he was the world's middleweight champion and he has had a tough time making anyone believe he could even fight.

World's ring titles usually bring fortunes and luck in great gobs, but when Wilson stumbled into the middleweight regal robes he got his feet all tangled up and he is still down.

He has been under suspension so long by the New York Commission that a change of heart is being felt in the official circle and it is understood that he will soon be allowed to go back to his business.

The New York Commissioners should be commended for symptoms of giving Wilson a square deal, but after looking over the situation, it begins to appear that the commission is being nice to Wilson just to give him a harder sock.

When Wilson does go back to work, he will find so few middleweights who can draw a dime at the door that he will have to start associating with the light heavyweights.

And what a nice congenial bunch of boys he will find hanging around in that class with a sock ready for him: Greb, Gibbons, Tunney, Loughran and a few others.

Wilson should have been reinstated many months ago. He has been under suspension for alleged violation of a rule that other champions failed to observe and have escaped without even notice.

As long as Wilson is not permitted to earn a living, Harry Greb should not be permitted to box in New York.

Wilson was suspended because he failed to accept the challenge of Greb. When Greb was challenged, he ignored it because he did not want to make the weight in the class.

Greb was reinstated after serving a few weeks, but Wilson is "still on the ground."

If Wilson is to be made that goat of the "champions must defend their titles every six months," Leonard, Lynch and Dempsey ought to get the same dose.

ANAHEIM, EL MONTE GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAMS MAY BATTLE

The Anaheim high school girls' basketball team, undefeated champions of the Orange county league, has issued a challenge to the El Monte high school girls' team for a tilt to determine which squad will have the right to fight it out for the Southern California title, an honor which was won by the Mother Colony girls last season.

El Monte was the only school to defeat Anaheim this season and this reversal was in a practice match before either team had won the title in its respective league. The El Monte officials wish that game to count as a semi-final tilt.

POLY 130 POUNDERS DEFEAT JUNIOR HIGH

Playing a great defensive game and showing flashes of cleverness on the offensive especially during the first half, the Santa Ana high school 130-pound team yesterday afternoon vanquished the local Junior high school ninth grade quintet by the score of 31 to 4.

Lutz and Cochems starred for the Poly lightweight aggregation, the latter proving a basket shooter of no mean ability. Meisinger was the best man for the Junior high aggregation.

The Poly team will take on the Orange lightweights at Orange tomorrow night.

The lineups:

High School: Lutz, Rodriguez, F. Daly, Smith, Lewis, Chase, C. Planchon, Kelly, Lutz, Greeley, G. Nava, Gardner, Godwin, G. Mercado.

Junior High: Meisinger, Daly, Smith, Planchon, Kelly, Nava, Mercado.

Paired with Jock Hutchinson, Sarazen defeated Abe Walker, club professional, and Joe Hegerman 6 up in an 18-hole match. The champion shot the nine holes in 71, two better than the former mark. Both Sarazen and Hutchinson said the Hacienda course was one of the best nine hole links they had ever played over.

OAKLAND, Calif., Feb. 8.—Ray Pelkey lost a decision here last night to "Race Horse" Roberts at the end of four rounds which were crowded with action.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 8.—Tommy Ryan, McKeesport, Pa. bantam, won a ten round decision from Irish Johnny Curtin, Jersey City.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Feb. 8.—Pete Hartley, New York light weight, on a ten round decision from Frankie Quill, Brockton.

POLY TRACK SQUAD READY FOR MANUAL

Adkinson's Men Travel to Los Angeles Tomorrow For First Meet

A little warming up exercises and a few short runs were on the menu for Ray Adkinson's Santa Ana high school track team candidates who tomorrow afternoon will travel to Los Angeles for their first meet of the season with the strong Manual Arts high school squad.

Although the meet was originally scheduled to be held on the local oval arrangements were later made to stage the affair at Los Angeles.

Coach Adkinson said today he knew nothing of a report received here that the meet will be a tri-team engagement with San Diego high school travelling north as the party of the third part.

Manual Should Win While the Manual team is expected to defeat the local thinly clad athletes without serious difficulty, Adkinson believes his men will be able to capture a number of points and make it a real meet.

Dungan is counted on to win the discus from the Los Angeles contestants as the big Santa Ana football player has been improving every day. He is good for 105 feet on any throw and the Poly track chief believes Dungan will be heaving the Greek thing close to 120 feet before the Orange County meet.

Earl Jabs should be able to nab a few digits in the weight events. He has been shoving the shot around the 42-foot mark consistently. He also is a good man with the discus.

Vawter Goes Good

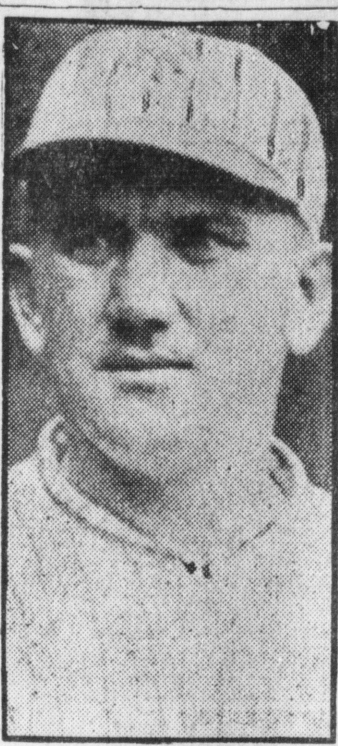

Bob Vawter should be able to romp through the mile and the half and run up the Poly total as the lengthy distance man has been going good of late. Otto Gardner, the curly-headed boy, has plenty of class in stepping over the high and low barriers and he is expected to garner some points for Santa Ana tomorrow.

"Chuck" Webber may figure in the high sticks. Bell will compete for the locals in the high jump and should be good for a place if he shows the form he did in the inter-class tussle.

Adkinson plans to take virtually every man on his squad and give them an opportunity to display their wares in competition with the Manual Arts aggregation.

Banished Spitball Pitcher of Giants To Play As Outlaw

"Shufflin'" Phil Douglas.

HORNELL, N. Y., Feb. 8.—Announcement that "Shufflin'" Phil Douglas, banished spitballer of the New York Giants, will be one of the hurling staff of the Hornell team next summer, naturally focuses attention on what fans say is the real "red-hot" baseball town of the country.

Hornell is a thorn in the side of John J. Farrell, the minor league mentor, for it is an "outlaw" town and doesn't give a rap who knows it. Last year Farrell forbade all league teams from playing with Hornell ad even black-listed other independent teams that played against Hornell. But Hornell didn't mind and went out and won the independent or "outlaw" championship of the country.

Phil Douglas is not the first star to sign with Hornell. Scott Perry, who was Connie Mack's pitching ace, has been in Hornell for two years.

Joe Harris, erstwhile of the Cleveland Indians, played in Hornell in 1921. Harris has since been reinstated by Judge Landis.

Jake Pitter, who jumped the Pittsburgh Pirates, is playing manager of the Hornell club.

The Hornell club is supported by popular subscription in addition to the heavy gate receipts. It has no salary limit and pays as high as $4000 a year for the men it wants. Last year it won every series played, winding up by beating the famous independent club at Shamokin, Pa., and then walloping George Texor's great club at Massillon, O., in seven out of ten games played.

FLOYD JOHNSON TO TAKE ON WILLARD

Californian Passes Up Go With Tommy Gibbons To Try Out Fat Jess

BY HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Staff Correspondent) NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Ever since Charley Cook signed his heavyweight, Floyd Johnson, to meet Tommy Gibbons early in March, his friends have been telling him how wrong he was.

He admitted it last night by wriggling out of the Gibbons match and getting Jess Willard for an opponent in a bout to be fought in the new Yankee stadium May 12. It is to be staged for the Milk Fund. To get Willard by the bars that the boxing commission had raised against him, it had to be for charity.

Johnson was to get $15,000 for fighting Gibbons. He is to get $25,000 for fighting Willard. Willard is to get the same sum. Between now and May, Johnson can get in three or four good bouts and more purses.

Terms of the agreement signed by Johnson, requires him to meet Gibbons within 30 days after he defeats Willard, if he does defeat him. If Johnson beats Willard, however, the big ballyhoo will start for a Dempsey-Johnson bout and Gibbons will get the go-by again.

Gibbons demanded that Tex Rickard get some one else for him to fill the abandoned date on March 19.

William Muldoon, chairman of the boxing commission, said that as the bout was to be fought for a worthy cause he would suspend the 38-year age rule in the case of Willard and allow him to fight Johnson.

Personal Appearance and Plumbing

YOU can single out the successful business man. Almost invariably he radiates good-health, clean-living, mental alertness. His personal appearance denotes thought and care.

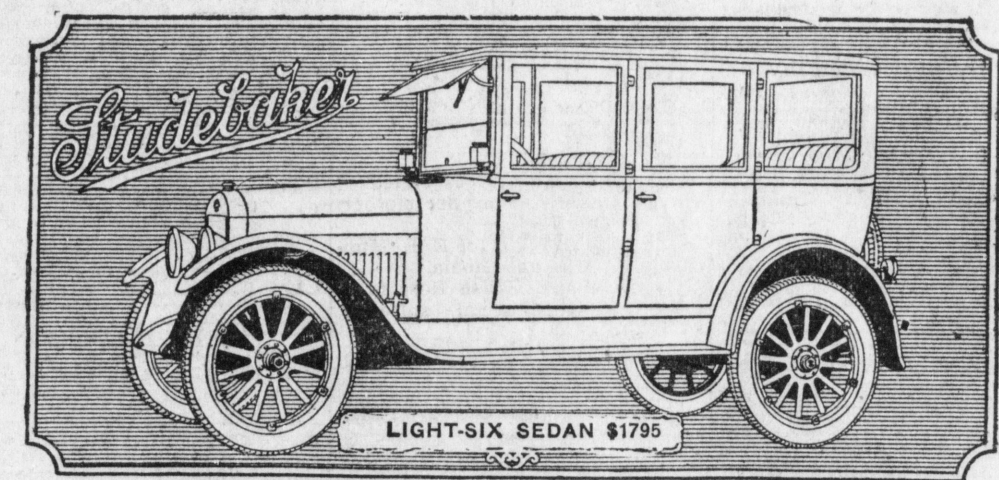

Of the many attributes of success clean-living comes first, and bodily cleanliness is as important as lofty moral standards.

It is the invigorating morning bath, or the refreshing shower that puts spring into the step and quickens the mental processes. It is the cooling shave that brightens the face. It is the conveniences of modern sanitary plumbing facilities in the homes, club, office or industrial plant that contribute these elements of success.

Every man and woman directing the affairs of the home, every executive of a business institution, heads of commercial and manufacturing establishments—in fact all good citizens—should give intelligent thought to this very important health provision.

Install the best in plumbing to insure the best in health and success. You can get the best in plumbing by giving your work to the 200 members of the Sanitary Development League of Southern California who are pledged to maintain the highest ideals and business practices.

There is no Substitute for Quality

Automobile bodies, like houses, may be either strong, sturdy and durable, or light, flimsy and weak. Like houses, good bodies are expensive, and make-shifts are cheap. Prices influence sales of automobiles, as they do of houses, but highest quality and lowest price are possible in neither.

There is no substitute for quality.

To cheapen quality of materials, construction and finish is not Studebaker policy. A makeshift product is fatal to permanent success. Studebaker bodies are built to withstand for many years the exposure and use to which an automobile is subjected. Better bodies are not built by any manufacturer nor borne by any chassis. Studebaker's reputation is at stake in body building.

Studebaker body plants at South Bend, Indiana, alone contain 2,700,000 square feet of floor space, represent the investment of $7,000,000, employ 5,000 people, and are the largest body plants owned and operated by any individual manufacturer in the industry. They are, we believe, as experienced and as competent to build good bodies at minimum costs as any plants in existence. Buyers of Studebaker cars get the benefit of this investment, experience and economy.

The broad principle upon which Studebaker business has prospered for seventy-one years, and upon which it is now conducted, insures satisfaction to everybody who deals with the House of Studebaker.

The name STUDEBAKER is your best protection, as it is our greatest asset.

A PUZZLE A DAY

Take a pencil, and starting at any one of the dots shown above, draw four straight lines, which pass through all nine dots. Each line must begin where the previous one ended; and the pencil must not be lifted from the paper during the operation.

Yesterday's answer: If the question, "What is the difference between twenty-four quart bottles," is asked quickly, nearly everyone will answer that they're the same. The difference, however, is fifty-six quarts, as twenty-four quart bottles contain twenty-four quarts, while twenty-four quart bottles will hold eighty quarts.

EVENING SALUTATION

Die when I may, I want it said of me, by those who know me best, that I always plucked a thistle and planted a flower when I thought a thistle would grow.

—Abraham Lincoln.

PUT A STOP TO IT

Juvenile court officials of the county are to be commended for the vigorous manner in which they are endeavoring to put a stop to the distribution of salacious literature among school children of the county. To be sure, this literature has not found its way into the hands of all of the pupils nor on to all the school grounds, but there has been enough of it spread around so that nobody can estimate the harm that has already been done by it.

Various co-called jazzy magazines have recently been taken from children in one of the schools of the county. These magazines were sold to children by adults. It is to be hoped that the evidence against the adults will be secured. For a few paltry cents profit in the sale of magazines, these adults poison the minds of children. Sometimes we regret that the whipping post has been abolished.

The circulation of vile literature seems to go by epidemics, in schools. Some one or two children come into possession of a vile "poem," and it is copied and given from one child to another. Probation Officer R. R. Miller is authority for the statement that there has been quite a bit of that kind of thing going on in some of the grammar grades of the county lately, and he urges that parents co-operate to the fullest extent with school authorities in checking the epidemic. Doubtless it will be worth while for parents to make inquiries of their children to learn if anything of the sort has been going on in their schools.

THIS BILL SHOULD PASS

Assemblyman Chester Kline, of Riverside county, expects to secure an appropriation of $5,000 from the state for use in fire protection in the San Bernardino mountains. The sum sought by Kline is moderate, and carries with it a provision that an equal amount must be spent by the United States Forest Service in constructing and maintaining fire lanes.

Orange county is deeply interested in any movement or step for the betterment of fire protection in the San Bernardino mountains, for it is from those mountains that gravity irrigation water used by the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation company and the Anaheim Union Water company comes. San Bernardino and Riverside counties are equally interested. A sum many times $5,000 could be used to advantage. While it is well understood that any appropriation measure will be up against hard sledding at Sacramento, a measure of this kind is entitled to special consideration. It ought to be passed and it ought to have the Governor's signature.

MUSIC, MEMORY, WORK

Evanston, Ill., is another of the cities holding music memory contests for the benefit of public school children. A visitor in that community tells of her experience with a neighbor's "little, wild, bob-haired sprit of a girl" who gave the correct name and composer of 17 out of 19 vocal and instrumental selections played on the host's phonograph.

The child explained that she had learned "all about music" while training for the music memory contests, and that she hoped to be on the winning team at the next contest.

Training children to know and recognize even a few pieces of good music helps them to enjoy more fully all good music. The music memory contest is one of the modern "frills" of education which is proving its value and which should be given a permanent place in school systems.

STUDENTS JUDGING TEACHERS

A writer who has been making a series of investigations of leading colleges suggests that a system should be worked out for the grading of professors and instructors by their pupils. A possible method might require each student at the end of a term or course to grade the instructor and his work in a scale from A to E on such qualifications as these:

Scholarship—Knows his subject; has a background of adequate knowledge, with special knowledge in his particular field.

Teaching ability—Common sense, gumption, alertness of mind, imagination, ability to grasp a situation. (Not to be identified or confused with scholarship).

Reliability—Evidence of solid character; native honesty, truthfulness, sense of justice and fair play; dependability, persistence, punctuality.

Forcefulness—Personal force, quality of leadership and command; power of discipline, decisiveness, initiative.

Personality—Bearing, tact, good-temper and self-control, courtesy, manners generally, neatness.

In support of his suggestion the writer urges that president, faculty or trustees cannot see the college teachers as his pupils see him. They learn of his work in the classroom only slowly from the results he obtains with his students, and from the popularity or boycotting of his courses. That spitwork or personal grudges would appear in such a grading of teachers, he doubts, because "young people, in the test of real responsibility, are terribly just and amazingly wise."

The same reasoning may apply to high schools, and in less degree to grammar schools.

It would certainly be an interesting experiment, and might prove to be a useful one. Eventually it might help to eliminate the "old fogies" and encourage greater appreciation of the truly fine men and women in the profession.

BUT WHY WAIT TO AMEND?

No one can question the fact that municipalities, counties and states have been issuing too many tax-free bonds. Issues beyond any normal power to redeem are bad for everybody in the long run. But it is well within the power of these communities to stop issuing bonds beyond any normal power to redeem.

If common sense in communities is lacking where to accomplish this desired end, power to tax bonds seems to be already written in the Constitution. To any normal mind, the words of the Sixteenth Amendment. The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes, from whatever source derived, without apportionment among the several states, and without regard to any census or enumeration" would seem to give Congress ample power to tax. The Supreme Court has never denied that power.

There is no doubt that a national divorce law is needed. The scandal and confusion of the present arrangement, bringing trouble to just and unjust alike, is obvious. But why make the poor old Constitution do the work? Good legal authorities hold that there is adequate machinery for performing the work without an amendment.

When it comes to child labor, there is a precedent. The Constitution has been amended several times for the further establishment of human rights. Negroes and women specifically have been given rights by constitutional amendment. Children, one may rightly argue, are also entitled to the protection of that great document.

But here again the amendment, while defensible, may not be necessary. Twice child labor laws have been framed which could not stand up in the Supreme Court. This does not prove anything except that they were not framed properly. It does not prove that a third law, or a seventh, guarding against the mistakes of the previous ones, would not so stand.

Turning to the Constitution to remedy every difficulty is bad business. It is part of the great national habit of passing the buck. There are other ways of accomplishing needed reforms. But these require individual action on the part of state, counties, cities and citizens. Surely the necessary mental and moral vigor have not departed from the national character!

It's a Partnership Job

San Francisco Chronicle.

Fathers have no idea how to bring up their children. The mother acts as a buffer between the father and the child. The mother feels more, although she knows less, than the father. Fathers are unfair both to boys and girls, while mothers are unfair only to girls. Parents need to keep up to date, for the discipline of today is not necessarily the discipline of tomorrow. These were the conclusions recently reached at Harrogate, England, by the members of an organization devoted to the study of parenthood.

Analysis of the supposedly sage findings of the apparently earnest, if misguided, members of the Harrogate organization, tempts one to wonder as to the personnel of the investigating committee and the course the investigation took.

The fact is, bringing up children should be strictly a partnership affair, wherein the father and mother share equally in actual training and in responsibility. The mother should not have to do all the correcting, while the father plays the role of the wonderful person who brings home candy. Both for his own sake and the children's sake the father should have an active part in the bringing up of the rising generation. As a matter of fact the modern mother knows vastly more about bringing up children properly than her mother knew, and the more active co-operation she gets from the head of the household the less chance there is for unfairness and the better it is for children and parents alike.

Judges Should Comment

Pasadena Star-News.

One of the reforms in court procedure which is being strongly urged in this state—particularly in the movement which originated in Los Angeles—is to provide that trial judges may advise juries on points of fact, as well as instruct them on matters of law. About half of the states of the Union have this provision. It obtains in all the federal courts in this country and it is the rule in all the courts of England. English courts are models for the world in effectiveness and promptitude in administering justice.

To make this provision here in California would go far, it is believed, toward preventing mistrials from a chaos of conflicting opinions among jurymen. If the court could advise as to what evidence to accept and what to reject—in a word, point the way as to what the verdict should be, or upon what line of facts and of evidence it should be based, there would be no excuse for jury disagreements.

Judges in civil cases in this country may comment upon the facts. It is only in criminal cases that such restriction as that in California and some of the other states obtains. It would be a good thing to change the California constitution as to this, and also change it to provide that three-fourths of a jury may bring in a verdict in all criminal cases except those in which capital punishment is involved.

Words of Fair Warning

San Diego Union.

We might as well be having a war. Last year more Americans were killed or injured by automobiles than were killed in the World War, and we were in that war far longer than a year at that. One investigator estimates that automobiles in this country are killing 100 people a day. In 1920 deaths from automobiles were one-sixth of the total deaths from accidental causes. In 1921 the automobile deaths in California were $76, which was exceeded only in the more densely populated states of Illinois, New York and Pennsylvania. Even Illinois had only 11 more deaths than California.

The maker of a well known car puts on the industry itself much of the burden and responsibility for the problem. "It is time for owners, manufacturers, dealers and others vitally interested in the industry," he says, "to stop fighting any and all legislation for the regulation of automobiles and to unite upon some means of bringing an end to the accident menace. The truth of the whole matter is that we have got too much speed. . . . A lot of the car owners and others say that the pedestrian has got to be regulated. But they are pretty well regulated now. They know that unless they get out of the way they will get killed. So they get out of the way. Of course, the pedestrian is to blame in many cases, but the thing for the automobile industry to do is not to keep pointing at that, but to initiate some legislation or other method of its own that will stop speeding and reckless driving. The kind of legislation that this kind and sort of fighting legislation, the pedestrians are going to put through some legislation that will hurt the whole industry. . . . The automobile men themselves can cut down accidents to the point where there won't be any accident problem."

In the good old-fashioned days far-seeing prophets in the liquor industry talked in much the same way to the manufacturers and purveyors of liquor, and were heard not. And after a while, things began to happen.

The warm spell following upon our recent little cold snap seems to indicate that all danger of any cold weather that will injure our fruit crop has gone. It has been a splendid year from a crop standpoint and all the oil in the smudge pots can be saved for another year. Now with an upward trend of prices, Redlands will enter upon the best year she has had in a long time.—Redlands Facts.

The Fog

A Health Victory

In 1907 tuberculosis was the foremost cause of death in the state of New York. Health workers in insurance companies and civic organizations have conducted an active anti-tuberculosis campaign in that state during the 15 years since 1907. Their success is shown in the fact that tuberculosis has now dropped to fifth place in the causes of death.

Deaths from tuberculosis in 1907 reached 6,330. In 1921—figures for 1922 are not yet complete—the total had dropped to 4,801, in spite of the fact that the state's population had increased 16 per cent.

Since the prevention and control of tuberculosis require intelligent and loyal co-operation on the part of authorities and individual citizens—particularly patients suffering from the disease—the reduction in its fatalities is evidence of the tremendous possibilities of united action against this sort of enemy.

Four other diseases—heart diseases, hemorrhage of the brain, cancer and kidney diseases—showed an increased mortality in the period studied.

Yet these, too, are largely preventable. They usually follow neglected ailments, injurious habits of living and lack of proper care during convalescence from other illnesses.

What New York state has done in lessening the menace of the white plague it can do to these other plagues in time. And what New York has done other states can do.

Worth While Verse

THERE IS NO UNBELIEF.

There is no unbelief;
Whoever plants a seed beneath the sod
And waits to see it push away the clod—
He trusts in God.

There is no unbelief;
Whoever says, when clouds are in the sky,
"Be patient, heart; light breaketh bye and bye,"
Trust the Most High.

There is no unbelief;
Whoever sees, 'neath Winter's field of snow,
The silent harvest of the future grow—
God's power must know.

There is no unbelief;
Whoever lies down on his couch to sleep,
Content to lock each sense in slumber deep,
Knows God will keep.

There is no unbelief;
Whoever says, "to-morrow," "the unknown,"
"The Future," trusts that power alone,
He dares disown.

There is no unbelief;
The heart that looks on when the eyelids close
And dares to live when life has only woes,
God's comfort knows.

There is no unbelief;
For thus by day and night unconsciously
The heart lives by the faith the lips deny,
God knoweth why.

—By Lizzie York Case.

PROVOCATION ENOUGH.

A missionary school teacher who had been assigned duty in that part of the Cumberland mountains which touches three states, and where feuds are common, was entertained at a mountain cabin of one of the chiefs of the region. The chief's wife entertained her royally and the teacher expressed solicitude for the lonely life the woman must lead.

"Yes," agreed the chieftain's better half, "but just as soon as Jim gets one mo' we air gwinter leave this country."

The horrified teacher asked if she meant kill one more man?

"Yes, and Jim's bound ter get him, too," boasted the wife.

"Has the man injured your husband?" the missionary demanded with some asperity?

"He sho' has!" was the vehement reply. "He kilt my fust husband."—The Argonaut.

WHAT'LL HE DO WITH THEM?

The Santa Ana Rotary club has a weekly publication, some weeks, most weeks. It is called the Wheel-Barrow. Occasionally it springs something on its members, some members, most members, or a member.

There was one little tale that was told about Elmer Jahraus, of Laguna Beach, and this was the way the tale was told:

Elmer Jahraus had another birthday anniversary Saturday. He is 38 again this year. Several years ago, when he was 37, he swore off smoking. This year he did it again. He has quit smoking so many times that it is getting to be a perfectly easy task. This time, however, there are complications. Four of his friends, remembering his natal day, sent him gifts Saturday night. After delivering to his family a delightful declaration of his good resolution to quit smoking, he began opening his gifts, which turned out in this order: A box of cigars, a humidor, a quantity of cigarettes and another box of cigars.

I AMMONIA NOVICE

Here is one that some scissors artist of the Wheel-Barrow fixed up:

I Ammonia Novice

Doc Clark (in drug store)—I want some consecrated lye.

Fred Parsons—You mean concentrated lye.

Clark—It does nutmeg any difference. That's what I camphor.

Parsons—Fifteen cents. I never cinnamon with so much wit.

Clark—Well, I should myrrh, myrrh! Yet I ammonia novice at it.

COUE IS AT IT HERE

D. Emilio Coue has invaded the post office. One of the carriers explained yesterday that, "day by day, in every way, the mail is getting heavier and heavier."

All of the boys repeat the phrase more than twenty times a day. They call him Dr. Cue, Dr. Cua and Dr. Cuez?

By the way, for the benefit of the post office boys, how do you pronounce Coue?

PRAISE FOR ORANGE COUNTY.

Editor Register:—Southern California with its diversity of scenery, its palm-lined boulevards, oranges, lemons, and walnut groves, desert vastness and snow-covered slopes, all within easy reach; an ever increasing populace of eager home builders; with an ever increasing program as to housing of commercial and manufacturing enterprises that may soon make some of our cities national leaders; the mildness of its climatic conditions; the fertility of its soil, with its complete irrigating system, and abundant water supply, where commodities of nearly every state in the union can be successfully grown, say nothing of the various crops grown, that many states never can grow; the freedom of outdoor exercise; the breathing of its pure and wholesome air; the allotted tenure of years of three score and ten, bringing man just into the prime of life.

If this is a true picture, and it is, what can stay a continued influx of citizens from every state?

Many southern counties share to a certain extent a proportion of these assertions, but to none is accorded a more complete fulfillment of these words than does Orange county, of which Santa Ana is the seat.

As to the white spots in California, Orange county is not only reputed to be the state's whitest, but it is the nation's brightest county star in its illuminating whiteness.

CROSSING THE MYSTIC RIVER

When we cross the mystic river,
To the land of love and song,
When we climb the golden stairs
And meet the angel throng,
Then the burdens and the sorrows

Of the heart will pass away.
Like the vapor o'er the meadow
At the coming of the day.

Adventures of the Twins

Whale to Squid

By Olive Roberts Barton

One day the telephone in the hickory tree postoffice rang 'n rang.

Nick answered it.

"Hello, who is this?" asked a voice, although it should have said "Who is that?"

"It's Nick, the Twin," answered Nick. "Do you wish to speak to Mr. Stamps, the postmaster?"

"Oh no, you'll do!" answered the voice. "This is Mr. Whale out in the ocean. I couldn't come, so I thought I would telephone. I wish they would move the Fairland postoffice out to the ocean instead of keeping it on dry land all the time. We have to depend on the sea-gulls to carry our letters and they are the gossipiest things and tell everything they know. I want to send a valentine to the squid and I don't wish anyone to know it. Could you please take it for me?"

"Certainly," said Nick obligingly. "I'll be right over."

"I'll be waiting near the light-house," answered the whale.

Nick arrived at the ocean in just a little while (having his Magic Green Shoes on) and sure enough, there was Mr. Whale holding a letter in his mouth. "Here it is," he said at once. "My friends helped me write it or I never could have done it. The sea urchin wrote it with one of his quills, and the cuttlefish supplied the ink. Read it, will you, and see how it sounds."

So Nick unfolded the paper and read:

"Dear little squid so sweet and small,

Would you were forty times as tall.

Then I should say you'd be just right.

To satisfy my appetite,

"I do not care for fish at all, no matter if they're great or small. Of herring, cod, and shad and pike, There's not one that I really like.

"Of all the creatures in the sea, You have the sweetest taste for me.

Oh, little squid with flavor fine, Please won't you be my valentine."

"It's very nice," said Nick. "I'll take it at once."

So off he flew to the little squid's house. And the squid read it.

"Humph!" said she. "Valentine indeed! It's just a polite way of asking me to be his meal-ticket. No, thank you!"
